ENDOWED HOSPITAL FOR SANTA ANA IS AIM OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

BOARD FOR CARRYING OUT PLAN NAMED

Equipment of Washington Avenue Institution, to Be Nucleus

ONLY $18,000 CASH IS NEEDED FOR PROJECT

Many Believe Public Should Help Pay For Place to Care For Suffering

AN endowed hospital for Santa Ana, with the present equipment on East Washington avenue as the nucleus from which later will develop an up-to-date institution in a new location—this is the purpose of a big movement just started by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce for giving Santa Ana a hospital that will meet the demands of a city the importance of Santa Ana and which will prove a factor in the development of the city.

The Chamber of Commerce has taken up the proposition and has carried it to the point of naming a committee to have charge of the undertaking. Z. B. West, judge of Department One, Orange County Superior Court, is chairman of that committee and upon him will devolve the organization of other committees to carry out the project.

The stockholders of the hospital have given options on their stock to be exercised on or before the first of the coming year. The property is valued at $30,000 and the stockholders are evidencing their appreciation of the value of an endowed institution to the city by agreeing to accept a figure which is equivalent to about 70 cents on every dollar they have invested.

May Need Only $18,000.

Some of them are willing to go further than this and many will turn their stock into an endowed hospital absolutely without cost. It is estimated that $18,000 in cash is all that will be needed to put the project over and it is believed by the Chamber of Commerce that there are public-spirited people in Santa Ana who will quickly subscribe to a fund that will transfer the plant from the hands of the present company to the management of committees selected by the people who contribute to the fund. Obligations will be made in such a way that they can be distributed over a period of from one to five years.

It is proposed to have a board of trustees who would hold the land and buildings in trust and another committee that would be responsible for internal management of the hospital.

The Santa Ana hospital was started seventeen years ago by some of the progressive physicians of the city who saw the need of such an institution, a stock company being organized for the purpose.

It has developed into a hospital of some thirty-five beds. There is a training school for nurses and at the present time twelve young women are taking the course. Through the untiring efforts of those directing it, it has paid dividends and expansion that has taken place has been made from earnings.

Preacher Attacking Mormons Escorted Home by Bodyguard

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 10.—Mormons invaded the meeting of the First United Presbyterian church here last night and attempted to turn the service into a debate.

The pastor, Dr. W. A. Stevenson, roundly denounced Mormonism, drawing from the invaders interruption and objection.

"Mormons are profane and obscene," Stevenson declared. "They practice polygamy and they don't deny it."

"Oh, yes, they do," yelled a man in the congregation.

Referring to Brother Smith, Stevenson said that "he drove his wives four abreast."

A bodyguard of his congregation, fearing attack, escorted Stevenson home.

GLOBE PUBLISHING CO. PLANT FIRED BY FOES

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—That some unknown enemy of officials of the Globe Publishing Company of Los Angeles set the fire which did $30,000 damage to the company's plant early today, was the theory of detectives who started investigating one of the most complete attempts at arson yet recorded here.

The plant was set afire in three places. Even rafters had been coated with paraffine to air combustion. Chairs, tables and all other furniture was saturated with kerosene. The fire was first discovered in the basement but broke out in two other places after firemen arrived.

Threats against the company, the police were informed, had been made. No insurance was carried.

VISIT OF DE VALERA STIRS UP L. A. FIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 10.—If Eamon de Valera, "president of the Irish Republic," has created a stir in Ireland, he has done little more than he has done in Los Angeles. De Valera is to visit this city about November 19.

Opponents of the Sinn Fein here have started a movement alleged to be designed to discredit De Valera's mission in this city and the Knights of Columbus and other organizations have come to his rescue. Even parts of the daily press have become involved in the controversy.

In the meantime, however, plans for De Valera's reception are growing in elaborateness and indications are that his coming will be an important event here.

COAST TAILORS WILL DEFY UNION EMPLOYEES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The man who has waited ten weeks for that suit of clothes watched today to learn the effect of the announcement of the Pacific Coast Merchant Tailors' Association that all tailoring establishments would open for business today on the open shop basis.

Shops in all cities on the coast, it was announced, would open without their union employees.

The employers said the tailors' union was controlled by radicals with whom they could have no further dealings.

WOULD PUT RADICALS ON SHIP AND SINK IT

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 10.—Mayor Baker occupied the pulpit at the Highland Congregational church last night. His "text" was "Be an American; It Doesn't Cost Anything."

The mayor recommended rough treatment for all men who refuse to live up to the laws of the United States. He advocated putting radicals aboard a vessel to be taken into mid-ocean and sunk.

HEAVY DEATH RATE AMONG BABIES OF MEXICANS

Child Welfare Station In Santa Ana Is Saving Scores of Lives

OVER one-third of the children born to Mexican women die within a few days, months or years after birth! To seventy-four Mexican women concerning whom statistics have been gathered in Santa Ana, 439 children have been born, and of those 439 there are 281 living and 158 dead.

A report to this effect has been made to the State Immigration and Housing Commission by Mrs. J. H. Leebrick, secretary of the Social Service League of Santa Ana. Recently a representative of that commission visited in Santa Ana, and while here he had an interview with Mrs. Leebrick.

To him Mrs. Leebrick explained the extraordinary good results that have been obtained through the Child Welfare Station conducted at the Social Service League headquarters on East Third street. To that station scores of Mexican mothers have brought their babies. Advice as to how to care for the children has been given through word of mouth and through pamphlets printed in Spanish. Much has been done in the way of providing medical aid. In a good many families where the need was found, the station has supplied milk. Without question the station is responsible for the saving of the lives of a good many babies, and for the betterment of the health of a great many others.

Education Is Needed The great need of Mexican mothers as a rule is education. Ignorance is credited with being the cause of the deaths of such a large number of Mexican babies. The mothers are willing enough to care for their babies, but they don't know how.

In making a written report to the State Immigration and Housing Commission upon conditions as she had found them among the Mexican people with whom she has come in contact as a social service worker, Mrs. Leebrick inclosed a copy of a letter that she had received from the office of a physician.

This letter set forth a condition that speaks louder than any other words could do in favor of child welfare work among the Mexicans.

The letter received by Mrs. Leebrick and sent on by her to the state commission says:

"In making out the birth certificates for the doctor's Mexican confinement cases, I have often noticed that almost every report of a woman with a family showed several children dead. The number of living children and the number dead are reported in every birth report, as I suppose you know, so the physician has to get this information for his birth certificate."

Period of Ten Months "I picked from his reports every Mexican family he attended which was not for the first baby—that is, every woman who had a family—from January 1, 1919, to the present time (Oct. 28), a period of ten months.

"The seventy-four mothers whom he attended in this time had had in all 439 children, 281 living and 158 dead. That is sixty-four per cent of their children were alive and thirty-six per cent of them were dead. They had lost one-third of all the children to which they had given birth."

"No wonder the Mexican women have a tragic expression!"

HORTICULTURAL MEN MEET CHICO, CAL., Nov. 10.—Preliminary to the opening Wednesday of the fifty-second convention of the State Fruit Growers and Farmers, county horticultural commissioners met here today.

U.S. ARRANGES TO DEPORT RADICALS IN PLOT

Agents Say Riots and Loss of Life Prevented By Prompt Action

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Raids upon headquarters and arrests of members of the Union of Russian Workers who plotted to destroy the government of the United States have been practically completed and the next step is deportation of the men arrested, it was stated today at the Department of Justice.

The commissioner of Immigration already has signed a number of deportation orders. More will be issued as soon as tabulated.

The further government agents went into the plot the more impressed they were with its seriousness, according to reports to their headquarters here. There was no belief that the revolutionary move could have been successful, but it was admitted that many riots might have been caused with loss of life and destruction of property if the government had not nipped the plot in the bud.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10.—Continued raids today by federal agents upon rooms maintained by alleged radicals brought the total arrests here to 11. Four of the eight men arrested last night were released today.

Espionage Law Upheld By Decision of Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The supreme court today upheld the constitutionality of the espionage law in a decision ruling that congress had authority to enact the law.

The court upheld the decision of the lower court against Jacob Abrams and others who were convicted of circulating revolutionary and disloyal leaflets printed in English and in Yiddish. The leaflets were circulated in Manhattan. The leaflets published in August, 1918, urged American workers to overthrow the government and join Russia in the soviet form of government. The federal attorneys demonstrated.

In making its decision the court indicated a strong sentiment in favor of upholding the Department of Justice campaign against revolutionists. "The defendants favored general strikes and a social revolution to keep the American army at home," the court's decision said.

AL JENNINGS INJURED BY INFURIATED DEER

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10.—Al Jennings, once a train robber, and now an evangelist and movie actor, is recovering from wounds here today which he received when he attempted to make a film star out of a fawn.

Just as Jennings was getting the fawn in shape for filming the mother appeared and for a minute Jennings had met his match. He was severely cut and bruised and fainted before the attack was over.

BLIZZARD AT DENVER CUTS EASTERN WIRES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—All press wires to the coast were cut off from eastern connections this morning. At 7:30 a. m. it was learned no wires would be working east for at least two hours.

Wires were down on both sides of Denver, where a blizzard has been raging since Friday night. Seven inches of snow have fallen about Denver.

Butte Has Prettiest Girl Met In 20,000 Mile Trip

Col. King Stanley Renders Decision After Visit to Montana City

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 10.—Col. King Stanley, pioneer and friend of Buffalo Bill, still has a keen eye for beauty in spite of his advancing years and he believes himself to be an expert in judging feminine pulchritude.

Likewise Col. Stanley likes to exercise his judgment in this regard and recently on a 20,000 mile journey about the United States he spent quite a bit of his time in various places watching for women of unusual beauty.

Finally Col. Stanley after being dazzled time and time again by young American women, arrived at the conclusion that in all his travels Miss Emma Harrington of this city is the fairest girl he has met. The colonel has a long list of reasons for arriving at this conclusion which includes the young woman's education, refinement, graciousness and wholesome fun-loving nature.

BULLETINS

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Thirty-six cars oranges and six cars lemons sold. Orange market 15 to 20 cents higher on best stock, 50 cents higher on poor stock. Averages, $2.35 to $2.55. Highest prices, 21 boxes Old Mission, $9.55. Lemons 25 cents lower. Averages, $2.50 to $2.87. Weather, fair; 8 a. m. temperature, 43.

PARIS, Nov. 10.—The supreme council decided not to recognize the results of the municipal elections in Upper Silesia. It also decided to permit the Greeks to occupy Smyrna temporarily. The council rejected the request of Germany to reopen the disposition of Malmady which was awarded to Belgium.

ROME, Nov. 10.—Clashes between soldiers and Socialists throughout Italy marked the second anniversary of the Russian revolution, according to dispatches received here. In Milan several persons were shot and many arrests were made. This scene was duplicated in Genoa. Soldiers in Genoa dispersed paraders who carried red flags.

BILL NYE DENIES WIFE OF MAYOR SLAPPED HIM

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 10.—The momentous question of whether Mrs. Meredith P. Snyder, wife of the mayor of Los Angeles, slapped the face of J. M. Nye, special agent of the state department in the presence of Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, remains undecided.

Nye, answering published statements that his face had been slapped, has countered with not only a denial, but with an offer to give $5,000 "to any hospital" if Mrs. Snyder can prove she slapped his diplomatic face, and he further offers to furnish the evidence of Queen Elizabeth on the subject.

But the slap is just a part of the war which is raging in California and Washington over the way King Albert and Queen Elizabeth failed to visit Pasadena and were whisked away on their train while Governor Stephens and a hundred notables waited to dine with them at the Hotel Maryland.

Congressman C. H. Randall has wired from Washington Nye's denial of all responsibility for the alleged royal slight to Pasadena and of the face slapping incident. Nye charges Mayor Snyder of Los Angeles with responsibility, declaring the mayor included motion picture studios on the list of places to be visited, without previously notifying Nye, and thus disarranging the schedule.

He promises Pasadena a detailed statement "of all that took place."

CABINET HANDED NEW HOME RULE PROPOSAL

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The committee on Irish problems has submitted a new home rule proposal to the cabinet, which provides for two Irish legislatures, one representing Ulster and the other representing the remainder of Ireland, the Times declares today.

MAY CARRY CASE INTO APPEALS COURT

Leaders of the United Mine Workers Expected to Rescind Order

TWO LAWYERS DEPART, MAKE NO STATEMENT

Federation of Labor Heads Go Into Session on Coal Strike

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—Leaders of the United Mine Workers of America went into session today to decide the fate of the coal miners' strike. One hundred and one men were present when the conference convened. They included members of the scale committee district presidents and members of the executive council.

An hour after convening the meeting was still in session and no announcement had been made.

Attorneys Henry Warrum and Smith left the conference while half a dozen other officers of the union arriving late joined the meeting. Warrum said no statement could be made.

Steps are being taken, it was learned, to carry the decision of the district court here to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

The general impression prevailed at noon that the strike order would be rescinded.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor went into session again today to consider the coal strike. Members of the council which last night issued a statement backing the strike would not predict what the next step would be.

A meeting of the council of labor chiefs and a short discussion of the strike in the senate were the only activities of the day here in relations of the strike.

POINCARÉ AND PARTY VISIT KING GEORGE

DOVER, England, Nov. 10.—President Poincaré, accompanied by Madame Poincaré, Foreign Minister Pichon, and a brilliant military and naval staff, arrived here this morning on a French warship on a five days' state visit to King George and Queen Mary. Escorted by a French squadron the presidential party left Boulogne and in mid-Channel they were met by a British flotilla, which after the customary salutes fell in with the French escort.

In Dover harbor all ships were dressed in honor of the event, and the warships joined with the guns of the land forts in a thunderous salute. The French ambassador to England with a special representative of King George, the naval and military commanders-in-chief of the port, the mayor of Dover, and a host of notables, greeted the president and his wife on the quay.

MASONIC FUNERAL FOR VICE CONSUL MILLER

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—A Masonic funeral was arranged today for Carry A. Miller, United States vice consul to Sweden, who shot himself last night at the Waldorf hotel.

LONG BEACH, Cal., Nov. 10.—The Southern Shipbuilding company of East San Pedro resumed operations today after being tied up since October 1 by the strike. Thirty-five hundred men returned to work in the yards, while 500 men seeking employment were turned away. Hundreds of shipwright workers from San Francisco and other Pacific coast points were reported to be seeking work here. The return of union men to work in the Southwestern yards has not yet been sanctioned by the metal trades council.

Both the Los Angeles and Long Beach shipbuilding companies were reported to be operating with normal crews. Neither of these yards closed during the strike.

JUNIORS ARE TO 2,500 ATTENDING BIG HOSPITAL IS SHIP CARLOAD OF PAPER CONVENTION OF LEGION PLANNED FOR SANTA ANA

One of Three Campaigns By Delegates From All States School Organization Is Hawaii, Panama, Alaska Now Under Way Are Present

The Junior Red Cross of Santa Ana has entered upon one campaign and has two others scheduled to begin within the next three weeks.

The campaign now on is for old newspapers and old magazines. Thirty tons of paper will be required to fill a car that is to be shipped by the Juniors. It is hoped to have all of the papers delivered at the various schoolhouses this week, so that they can be loaded into the car without delay. December 1 to 10 a Christmas seal sale will be conducted by the Juniors, and December 1 to 14 postcards will be sold to raise funds for French orphans.

The Junior Red Cross has made appeals as follows:

"Thirty tons of paper must be in the hands of the paper committee by November 15 to fill our order. One-half is to be first-class magazines (smooth paper), the other half to be second-class magazines and newspapers."

"Are you saving your papers? Will you use a small part of your Armistice Day vacation in securely tying your papers so that with your car you may deliver them to the nearest school building? Or will you get them ready for your own child or a neighbor's to take to his school?"

"Almost all of the amount received from this drive is to be spent on needy children in Santa Ana."

"Spend a few minutes of the day that means so much to us to lighten the burdens of those who will as a result appreciate November 11 just so much more."

"Please save all cord and string waste in business houses and homes and let the Junior Red Cross have it for tying paper. This will mean profit for us decidedly greater than if we have to buy cord for tying."

"From December 1-10 we will have Red Cross Christmas Seals for sale. Seventy-five per cent of the money so raised is to be used in the new Tuberculosis Preventorium, one already located in Marin county, and one to be erected soon in Los Angeles county. These people not interested in foreign children may double their amounts on Christmas Seals on sale for our own children."

"Twenty-five per cent of this money is to be used for child welfare work in Santa Ana."

"What better Christmas Seal can you find than one that gives your Christmas greeting and gives health to some unfortunate child?"

"Do your Christmas planning early. We wish to announce that we will have most attractive Christmas postcards for sale soon. The proceeds will apply on support of our French orphans. Remember, 10 cents a day supports one. For how many may we depend on you?"

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 10.—More than 2,500 delegates from every state in the union, in addition to ex-service men from Cuba, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Panama and Alaska, were in attendance here today at the opening session of the first national convention of the American Legion.

With a concerted determination to render the nation a public service as a memorial to their efforts in the great war and a monument to their fallen brothers-in-battle, the representatives of 1,000,000 ex-service men who have joined the legion will sit in convention today, the 11th and the 12th to draft a national policy and outline work the state chapters and local posts are to undertake.

Chief among the questions of policy to be decided at the convention are: Affiliation with political parties; granting bonuses to ex-service men; status of the standing army; compulsory military training; teaching of German in high schools; replacement of national guard units by state constabulary; status of Siberian and overseas service; deportation of aliens who refused to accept war service or who are present menaces to the country; payment of war risk insurance and endorsement of the Mondell land bill.

Stand has been taken on most of the questions by state branches.

KING OF LOCKS BREAKS OUT OF CITY'S JAIL

This morning, E. L. Humphrey, ruler over locks and handcuffs and other things of that sort, broke out of the city jail.

First, Humphrey took off all of his clothing. Then he was handcuffed. Two pairs of steel bracelets belonging to City Marshal Jernigan were put on his wrists. Motorcycle Officer Stewart then handcuffed the handcuffs to the iron bed in a cell of the city jail.

The door to the cell was locked with a padlock. The door to the corridor was also locked with a padlock, and Humphrey's clothes were left outside the outer door of the jail, and that door, too, was locked.

C. D. Swanner, secretary of the Santa Ana Chapter, American Legion, kept time on the stunt.

Everybody went outside the jail, as the doors were locked and Humphrey, held by three handcuffs behind three locked doors, went to work. In ten seconds less than five minutes he was dressed and out of the front door.

Humphrey is on the program of the two shows to be given by the American Legion chapter at the Temple Theater tomorrow night. His home is at 1502 North Ross street. Humphrey is now 20 years old. He began vaudeville stunt work when 14 years old. Tomorrow night he is to be shackled, handcuffed, tied with 100 feet of rope, tied in a canvas bag and locked in a cabinet, and agrees to be out within thirty seconds.

Tomorrow evening's program will include musical numbers, a talk by Capt. N. H. Holderman and the war film, "LaFayette, We Come."

City and County Briefs

City Recorder W. F. Heathman officiated at a 10:30 o'clock wedding at the county clerk's office last night, uniting Geo. H. Wilkinson and Anna Kelley, both of Los Angeles.

Manager W. H. Schureman of the Anaheim Citrus Fruit Association, has mailed out checks aggregating $11,770 to member-growers as a refund on last season's business.

Orders were issued today by Captain A. E. Koepsel, commanding Company F, California Infantry, directing members of the organization to be present at the Armory tonight at 7:30 o'clock for inspection and for the giving of instructions relative to the Armistice Day exercises tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Etchison, Mr. and Mrs. Wickersheim, Mrs. George Etchison, Mrs. Irvine, Mrs. Pond and Henry Duncan of this city attended the funeral services of J. J. Plattfoot, formerly of Santa Ana, who died at the California Hospital, Los Angeles. The last rites were said Thursday afternoon at Long Beach, with interment in Long Beach cemetery.

J. C. Metzgar and J. P. Baumgartner of this city, J. P. Greeley, mayor of Newport, are among the orange county people who will attend a banquet at the Maryland hotel in Pasadena tonight, to be given to the directors of the Tournament of Roses by the Board of Trade.

City Recorder Heathman this morning fined Benjamin Cuadros $50, following his arrest last evening, for carrying a concealed weapon. Half a pint of whisky was found on the prisoner at the time of his arrest, and information obtained by officers may result in the arrest of a man who has been "bootlegging" at Delhi and Santa Ana.

importance of Santa Ana and to meet the present day demands should be under the endowment plan, where earnings can be devoted entirely to expansion and maintenance of equipment that will make it possible to render the very best service to people who become afflicted.

Need for Better One.

While the present institution has grown and expanded, there is a crying need for a better one, and the time has come when the hospital must branch out in the way of larger equipment and greater space. It is held that it is not just to the stockholders of the local hospital to bear the burden of expansion, with little prospect of remuneration that will justify the additional expense. That a hospital is primarily run for the benefit of the public and that it is purely a public servant is becoming more and more a conceded fact. From this viewpoint, the Chamber of Commerce is taking the position that the public should be asked to help bear the burden.

It is the duty of the community to take care of the sick, and especially those who are not in financial position to reimburse a hospital for service. An endowed hospital would be in position to handle all classes of cases—rich or poor. This a private institution cannot do, although charity work done by the Santa Ana hospital since its organization would run into thousands of dollars.

With a private hospital, as a rule, the financial responsibility of a patient governs acceptance of the case. This should not be. The hospital should be in position first to render aid needed, with the remuneration an after consideration.

Equipment Is Expensive.

Hospital equipment is expensive and special equipment is of such a character that the individual doctor cannot afford to have all the devices at his command. The community is entitled to the best there is, and since it is the community that is to benefit by the institution of a high class hospital, the community should bear the burden, it is declared.

It is the hospital to which most of the accident cases are brought, the majority of which are not paying cases, and the burden of their care for a period falls upon the institution, upon the stockholders. It is rightly the police duty of the city, and the city should furnish its own emergency hospital and not depend upon a private institution conducted by private interests.

A good endowed hospital is an asset to the community by reason of the fact that all classes of cases can be handled, and this is a service that counts considerably among a very large class of people in seeking new home locations. This means the prolongation of life as well as the preservation of health, all being of primary importance to a city.

The present hospital is meeting many of the demands and standards of hospital equipment and service, but it is being done through the efforts of private individuals. For instance, there is maintained at the present time a clinical laboratory, well equipped and capable of handling all procedures that are handled in such laboratories. This equipment was bought and placed there by a local physician. The laboratory worker is paid $150 per month. The work that is done in the laboratory does not begin to meet her salary and local physicians have to make up the deficiency. A certain physician, aided by friends, has in the last few months expended about $2200 and given it to the hospital, providing as fine a maternity ward as could be asked. There is a limit to what the individual physicians can do.

League Inspects Hospital.

Yesterday representatives of the League for the Conservation of Public Health were in Santa Ana and inspected the Santa Ana hospital. They are making an official survey of the hospitals of the state. They were Dr. W. E. Musgrave, chairman, Dr. Dudley Fulton, member, and Celestine J. Sullivan, executive secretary. They found the hospital averaged up pretty well with the general run of such institutions in the state.

Fifteen national bodies are identified with the league, the objects of which are to better health conditions everywhere, representatives visiting hospitals and suggesting improvements that should be made in the interest of general better health.

"The league is ready to co-operate by giving advice and assistance in any hospital movement that will tend to better any community," declared Dr. Musgrave chairman yesterday afternoon. "This wealthy community ought to be aroused to the importance of the maintenance of a high class hospital in Santa Ana. I am glad to learn that there is to be an effort made to endow the local hospital, with prospect of developing later a larger and better institution. In order to render the service it should to any community, a hospital should have an endowment."

"A well equipped hospital is an institution in which every citizen should take a personal pride. It is of vital interest to everyone in the community and should be the center of social welfare work."

How sweet and how innocent. What a lot of cheer he carries into your home with his chubby little hands. What a picture of joy and health. There is nothing but gladness in his sparkling eyes—what a pity that you can not always keep him thus. But life is uncertain at best. Babies grow up and sometimes they are taken from us.

The best that we can do is to preserve the baby's personality by means of pictures. In years to come, in spite of any misfortunes that may come to your baby, you'll find much joy in the possession of these baby pictures. You ought to have a picture made once each year beginning NOW.

If the pictures are made in this studio they will be as near perfect as skill and perfect attention can make them.

CARRY OUT VAPOR FROM BREATHING TUBE

Vaporized oil that comes through the breathing tube is blown out in a mist, covering the hood and engine and mixing an abominable mess. This trouble may be cured by fitting an elbow of soft rubber hose over the breathing tube. A tin pipe is fitted over the other end of this elbow long enough to reach down into the dust pan, to which it is fastened. In this way the vaporized oil will be carried away from the engine and hood.

APIARISTS NEED PAY ATTENTION SUGAR TO FEED THEIR BEES TO POLITICS URGES HAYS

Shortage Sweet Stuff Brings Keepers Face to Face With Problem

The sugar shortage has hit the beemen of this section. This is a season of year when bees are not productive, and instead of turning out honey for their owners the owners must turn out food for the bees. Hitherto the usual procedure of providing food has been either to save out enough honey to carry the bees through or to provide them with sugar syrup.

Last summer honey brought an excellent price, and naturally there was a temptation for the apiarist to sell all the honey he could squeeze out of his stands, expecting to buy sugar for syrup food later in the year.

Just now the beemen are finding it impossible to get sugar in quantities desired. Some of the beemen have saved out enough honey to carry them through, but those men are the exceptions.

The situation was discussed at a meeting of the Orange County Beekeepers' Club Saturday afternoon.

"It is rather a serious situation," said County Bee Inspector J. E. Pleasants this morning. "If the bees are not fed they will starve."

The beekeepers' club took up a collection Saturday for the purpose of giving aid to unfortunate apiarists of France and Belgium. During the war hundreds of apiaries in those two countries were destroyed by diseases, and hundreds more are in such condition that it will take time to build them up to where they will be profitable.

National Committee Chairman Says Find Justice and Enforce It

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 10.—Will H. Hays, chairman of the National Committee of the Republican party, speaking before the Republican Editorial Association of Illinois, urged peacetime "patriotism which moves men to make their country's welfare their own business," in obtaining good government and solving present problems, which he termed largely economic. Exact justice for capital and labor and elimination of force were asked.

He said, in part: "I repeat and shall continually declare that what we need in this country is not 'less politics,' but more attention to politics. Politics is the science of government, and what we need is more attention to the science of government."

"Our difficulties are largely economic. The industrial problems in this country, which at the moment seem to be overwhelming, can be, and I have implicit faith, will be solved in one way—by finding exact justice and enforcing it."

Matter of Square Deal "It is simply a matter of Roosevelt's 'square deal'—exact justice for labor, exact justice for capital, and exact justice for the public, the third side of the triangle which must not be lost sight of. To that end we must develop a reasonable method for honest and efficient labor to acquire an interest in the business to which labor is expected to give its best efforts."

"Pending this development, the equilibrium between production and wages must be established, and there must be justice for all—exact justice, the justice of right and of reason, but not of force. Justice for all—and do not forget that the American people still know what exact justice is."

"The Republican party from its inception has stood against undue federalization of industries and activities. There must be strong Federal regulation, but not Federal ownership. We have always endeavored and still endeavor, to find the middle ground so well defined as between the anarchy of unregulated individualism and the deadening formalism of inefficient and widespread state ownership. We are against paternalism in government and we are against that form of pedagogic paternalism that has developed recently in this country. We are against autocracy as vigorously as we are against anarchy. Bolshevism and Kaiserism are equally dangerous, in industry as in government. We are against both."

VIRGINIA ARMISTICE CELEBRATION BEGUN

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 10.—With thousands of ex-service men here from every section of the state, Virginia's armistice week celebration opened today. Six days and nights of varied entertainment and diversified amusements will be provided for the reunion of the men who served the country during the war.

The program includes street carnivals, parades, an indoor circus and countless receptions, dances and balls. To every affair the men who wore the uniform of the country will be admitted free, and these men are promised all the courtesy and hospitality that has made Richmond famous for a hundred years.

Vice President Marshall will visit Richmond on Wednesday and will make a short speech from the steps of the state capitol, and will participate in flag-raising exercises conducted by United States Marines.

HOLD-OUT CROP PROMISES TO BE LARGE

By HENRY L. FARRELL,

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Next spring promises a sizable crop of "hold-outs" in the baseball patch.

The "million dollar" world series and the swollen coffers of most of the major league clubs will be a boom-erang on the flushed magnates when they come to talk terms with some of their stars who are due to consider new contracts this season.

War time caused the foundation to be knocked out from under the fabulous figures that were started by the Federal League. Many of the high-salaried stars took cuts of thousands on the payroll when the turnstiles were getting rusty in the dark war days. Many of them hooked up on long time contracts at reduced figures and fearing that it might be a long while before the national pastime could ride out met.

the waves back to its former era of financial success.

Practically every club on the major circuits made money last year. Some of them big money. This has caused many of the players to bemoan the fate that prompted them to "play safe" on low figures over a long stretch. From the talk heard since the close of the season even those who have one, two or three years yet to go on a contract will hit for a new contract with more pay.

Everett Scott, the star shortstop, gave indication of this a few days ago when he issued the ultimatum that he would play next year with the White Sox or he wouldn't play at all. He has two years to go on his contract. Scott Perry, it will be remembered bolted the Athletics last season and he is now scanning the list for a team that he would be willing to play with next season. When Carl Mays got away with his stunt of forcing a change it seemed to put other discontented players in the same mood.

Babe Ruth, greatest of all sluggers, is in California to take up movie work. Before leaving he announced that he wanted his present contract, which has two years to run at $10,000 a year torn up and a new one substituted calling for the neat little figure of $20,000 per season. He intimated that he would remain out of baseball and work in the movies if his demands are met.

THE RED CROSS

The Red Cross, in its present campaign, asks for 20,000,000 members as "a vote of confidence for the mandate to carry on."

It seems absurd that the Red Cross should even need to ask such a thing. The record of the Greatest Mother in tending her sons in the late war entitles her to every possible aid in carrying her great work into the needs of peace.

The demands upon the Red Cross, even when there has been no war, are great. Wherever there is a disaster or epidemic over the face of the earth, the Red Cross rushes with its ministry of mercy. Fires, floods, earthquakes, wrecks—all these call forth the best efforts of the society.

This year, added to these ordinary emergencies of normal life, there is exigent work to be done in many of the countries of Europe. In Russia, Poland, Serbia, Roumania—wherever war left hunger and bereavement, there is the Great Mother caring for her own.

A dollar a year is a pretty small tax upon the individual. The privilege of sharing in the service of the Red Cross is priceless.

LABOR'S SHARE

A student of labor conditions, himself a workman, recently declared that most of the industrial discontent in the United States today is based not on actual wrongs suffered by labor, but on false ideas put into work men's heads by radical agitators. It is largely the result, he reported, of a deliberate propaganda of distorted facts undertaken by the American I. W. O. and Bolsheviks. The most mischievous notion spread among American workers, he said, is the notion, preached everywhere by these radicals, that "capital" gets 85 to 90 per cent of the "earnings of industry," and "labor" only the remaining 10 or 15 per cent.

This, as the workman-investigator stated, is almost exactly a reversal of the fact.

A good example is found in a recent statement made by a rubber company which is not only one of the biggest business concerns in the country, but one of the most prosperous. Its sales for the current year are estimated at $165,000,000. Of that sum its net earnings are estimated at $20,000,000. The other $145,000,000 go, of course, mostly to the corporation's 43,000 employees. Of the remaining part paid for materials, etc., a correspondingly large part, of course, must be allowed for the labor engaged in producing and handling those materials before they come into the rubber company's hands.

Thus this very prosperous corporation is found to be getting a trifle over 12 per cent on its output. An economic expert estimates that, taking all business throughout the United States, the percentage is smaller than that—perhaps 10 per cent is going to capital and 90 per cent to labor, using "labor" in a broad sense.

Recently an investigator declared that between eighty-five and ninety per cent of the cost of an automobile is the cost of labor. In making the estimate, the cost of mining the iron, the cost of rubber production, the cost of making glass and the cost of all other materials were figured back to their original beginnings, back to the mine, the plantation, the sand banks and the factories.

There is danger these days in mis-statements concerning either labor or capital. Labor, as well as capital, must face facts. The biggest problem of America today must be worked out not upon a basis outlined by extremists of either capital or labor, but upon a sane basis, not upon a shifting basis of wild assertions and unreasonable prejudices.

EDUCATED WIVES

Foreign missionaries are reporting a demand from Africa and the Orient for educated wives. Men have come back from allied countries, where they have been fighting, with new ideas about marital companionship.

One Moslem sheik offered to pass up his four native wives if the missionary would bring him an educated American girl instead.

There was a time, and not so many decades ago, in this enlightened land, when girls were told they must not be too highly educated. "You'll never marry if you know too much," said the wisecracks. "Men don't like brainy women."

Girls went right on demanding and receiving more mental training than their mothers had had—and they went right on marrying and being married and raising children. There the parallel stops. For the children of the educated women have had a far better chance in life than children ever had before. And their mothers have insisted upon better conditions for all children, and have gotten them.

Moreover their companionship with their husbands has been finer and more comradely than ever before. There are divorces. But were there ever in the world's history so many genuinely happy homes? So many genuinely congenial couples? So much real interest in home happiness and better children?

Change Status

Milwaukee Journal

One hears of remarkable changes in the relative size of cities to be revealed next year. All but the first three in the country are to change rank, it is predicted. City growth has been enormous. These things always command place; size is a good advertisement and the city which drops behind comes in for sympathy and explanation.

How long is this going to be? When are we going to have a schedule which ranks cities for something that means more than size and congestion? Is it not worth more to residents that a city shall advance in its care of human life, in its standard of living, in its efficiency in making taxes promote public good? Growth is worth while, stagnation is bad. But we have cities which have grown so much faster than they have learned how to live that the sight of their monotonously stretched out rows of tenements and the ever renewed clamor of their riots and disorder go far to destroy the imposing percentage in the population columns once in ten years.

California Leads

Riverside Press

Figures compiled by the recorder of the University of California, based on reports from registrars at the larger state universities throughout the country, show that although abnormally large enrollments have been experienced everywhere, California leads, both in numbers of students registered in academic courses and in percentage of increase over last year. With 8027 students taking work in academic courses, California shows an increase of 53 per cent against an enrollment of 7500 at Michigan and 7102 at Illinois.

Figures compiled by the university show the following comparison in enrollment:

	1916.	1918.	1919.
California	5756	5252	8027
Washington	3215	3300	4710
Minnesota	4676	.....	6470
Michigan	5555	.....	7500
Illinois	5214	5076	7102
Wisconsin	4836	4760	6932

To October 15, 1919, the total registration of students in the degree-griving departments of the University of California for the current fall session is 9427. This number includes 434 students in medicine, law, dentistry and pharmacy in San Francisco.

Paper and News

Fresno Republican

Arthur Brisbane quotes Upton Sinclair as saying that "Journalism consists of buying white paper at two cents a pound and selling it at ten cents a pound."

If Mr. Sinclair knows where white paper can be had at two cents, or twice two cents a pound, we will guarantee to organize a syndicate of "journalists" (if that is what newspaper publishers are) that will pay him a thousand dollars a day commission as their purchasing agent, so long as he can deliver the paper at that price.

Newspaper publishers do not object to delivering the printed paper to the subscriber retail for the wholesale cost of the white paper. They will pay for gathering the news and printing and delivering the paper, and for the business office administration, and will find some way of getting all that out of the advertiser (trusting him to get it in his turn out of the readers) but when it reaches the point that the white paper itself actually costs more than the subscriber pays for the finished and delivered product, it becomes a question just how near a free gift a newspaper ought to be. For many papers, this point has practically been reached now. Newspapers, even at increased prices, would still be the cheapest thing in existence. But if the exactions of the paper monopoly keep on, a nation-wide increase in the subscription prices of newspapers is likely to become inevitable.

If, incidentally, the paper scarcity shall reduce the characteristic Sunday editions in the larger cities to about half their present size, a relieved public will conclude that there are some things for which to be thankful even to the paper trust.

Hands Off!

THAT A GREAT WORK MAY NOT CEASE

By A. V. Napier of the Register Staff

One of the most splendid and wonderful exhibitions of patriotism given by the American people during the war was the response they made to the appeal for funds to enable the American Red Cross to carry on its remarkable program for the comfort of American soldiers in camp, the care of the sick and wounded in hospitals and the relief of dependent relatives at home. Lavishly and with joy that the opportunity was given them, the American people poured their treasures into the lap of "The Greatest Mother in the World" and made her their almoner and the guardian and friend and nurse of their boys in khaki. It was a beautiful exhibition of sublime confidence in the organization and of faithful devotion to a great cause.

The war is over now. The horror of the blood-soaked battlefields and the suffering of lonely mothers at home is now only a terrifying memory that comes back like a distorted dream, and there is a very natural tendency to conclude that no more work remains for the Red Cross to do, and therefore no further need of continuing its support. Such a conclusion, however, is far from just. There will always be important work for the American Red Cross as long as there is disaster and suffering on the earth. As long as there are rivers to flood the country, as long as there are men's houses to be burned or swept away by storm, as long as there are crops to be destroyed by drought and men's lives to be threatened with pestilence and famine.

The moment the war ceased and the American Red Cross was relieved from its duty in connection with our armies it turned its attention to the relief of the stricken population of the countries the great turmoil had devastated. To innumerable villages in obscure portions of Rumania and Serbia and Russia and Belgium and Poland and Armenia the American Red Cross carried food and medicine and clothing and service which saved the lives of hundreds of thousands of women and children, and put back hope into the hearts of a population in which there was nothing but hopelessness and despair. The American Red Cross for a year has been writing the name of America in letters of gold indelible upon the hearts of millions of people, the greatest organization for the alleviation of human suffering the world has ever known. If the American Red Cross never does a thing for our country here at home we can well afford to finance it for the sake of the work it is doing in other lands. Indeed, from a cold, commercial point of view we could well afford to support it for the advertisement which it spreads over the planet of the big American ways and the broad, unselfish American ideals. But there is a great task ahead of the American Red Cross right here in America.

We are not asked now for large contributions. "All you need is a heart and a dollar"—that is the slogan this week. The American Red Cross campaign for 1919 closes next Tuesday, November 11. All that is asked is that those who were members during the war and those who should have been members pay their fee of $1.00 for a membership during the coming year. If you wait long enough some solicitor will more than likely call upon you and ask you for your subscription, but it would be much nicer to look up some solicitor and put your name on the list as a volunteer. It is the object of the present drive in Orange county to put every man, woman and child above the age of ten years on the list of Red Cross members. Have you a heart and a dollar?

The bore and his welcome are soon parted.

Of course we can understand that it would be fine for labor to share in the profits. But what will happen when the business shows a loss?

Babe Ruth informs us that he will demand $20,000 next year. Are we to infer that he will strike out if he doesn't get it?

A coal strike cause suffering? Piffle! If men can be drafted to make the world safe for democracy, can't they be drafted to keep innocent people from freezing?

The budget system wouldn't work in Mexico. It would be impossible to tell in advance how much of the public revenues would be required to ransom American citizens from bandits.

AMERICANISMS

Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Committee, is anxious to do something to aid the little red school houses of the western country. He has introduced a bill providing for the grant of lands to any State in aid of public schools if the Governor of that State lists with the Secretary of the Interior the details and publishes the facts for thirty days in a newspaper of general circulation in the vicinity of the land.

"An appropriate memorial to Theodore Roosevelt is that decided upon for Georgia. It will be the 'Roosevelt Memorial Institute' for boys, and will be located at the old Bullock home- stead at Roswell, where Roosevelt's mother was born. A fund of $500,000 is already assured for its establishment and maintenance. A course in 'Rooseveltian Americanism' — which means Americanism — will form a leading part of the curriculum."—Springfield Republican.

As the result of riots in Omaha which nearly caused the lynching of the mayor, merely because of the fact that he attempted to uphold the law, and of the incitement to disorder by "reds" in other places, Representative MacGregor, Republican, of New York, has introduced a bill in the House making punishable by imprisonment for twenty years or fine of $10,000, or both, the setting on foot, assisting, or engaging in any riot, insurrection or rebellion within the borders of the United States.

"Regardless of the extent of Victor Berger's culpability and regardless of what his Milwaukee constituents may think about him, there is no proper place in the National Legislature for a man of his belief and general record. And at this time, when good Americanism, undefined even by the breath of reasonable suspicion, should be a prime qualification among aspirants for public office, the House of Representatives can afford to make no concessions to dangerous heresies. There is just one proper course for the House to pursue in the Berger matter, and that is to accept and adopt the committee report promptly."—Detroit Free Press.

Americanization has become one of the chief concerns of Republican members of Congress. On both sides of the Capitol constant interest is manifested in the subject. A few days ago several of the leaders witnessed on the plaza an exhibition drill on the part of a company composed of twenty-four nationalities. Three months ago none of the privates of that company could speak the English language. Today they can not only speak and write it, but can repeat the commands in English and then execute them. Partly as a result of this, Representative Julius Kahn, of California, chairman of the House Committee on Military Affairs, has had reported favorably a bill permitting the entrance into the army of any youth who cannot speak the language.

MOVE TO STOP NIGHT WORK IN GARAGES

A movement is on foot by a few firms in Calgary, Alta., to have a by-law passed prohibiting the carrying on of automobile repairing or the sale of automobile accessories except gasoline and oil, after 6 p. m., work days or during any part of Sunday. As nearly all the maintenance and repair work for truck users is done at night in the garages, and many medical men have their car repairs and adjustments made over-night, it is not expected that this measure will become law.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO

Orange twilight, yellowed arches,
Amber distances afar,
Like a topaz o'er the chapel's
Ruined nave there burns a star,
Night's first cradle on the altar
Of an epoch passed away.
Here within this weed-choked
acraage,
Yielded now to dull decay,
Grew a fair and prosperous garden,
Coaxed from dry, unwilling earth,
Grew again the red Castilian
Leapt to heaven the sycamore,
Plump-fruit trees, bearded golden grain,
Drowsy Nature stretched and wakened
To the sweet old-world refrain
Of the swinging Mission bells;
All the simple homely deeds
Which shape the lives of peaceful men,
And sanctify their daily needs,
Took place within these arch-
ing walls,
Meals were baked, coarse
cloth was spun,
All the stubborn, sandy earth
Was broken open to the Sun,
And softened by the thrifty friars,
Whose hearts prayed as they
plowed and sowed,
Unaware that they were paving
With their lives a shining road
Up whose dim perspective
Hastens to relieve again,
In that atmosphere of reverence,
Modest lives, and earnest men,
Orange twilight, yellowed
arches,
Let me turn again to thee,
Close the portal of the present,
Lost myself in memory!

geles Times.)

Clayton-Gardner Nuptials

On last Saturday evening, for the second time within the past month, the spacious home of Mrs. A. M. Gardner on East Washington avenue was the scene of wedding festivities, when the younger daughter, Minnie, and John L. Clayton, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Clayton of Berkeley, were united in marriage.

Palms and button chrysanthemums, orchid shade, tall lamps, and a background of dark wisteria-colored window draperies formed a simple but beautiful setting for the ceremony, which was witnessed by some hundred relatives and friends.
Mrs. Stanley Searle sang "Calm as the Night," accompanied by Mrs. Harvey Gardner, as a fitting prelude, which was followed by a hidden trio, "Tis the Wedding Morn," beautifully given by Mrs. F. W. Stabaugh, Mrs. Russell Coleman and Mrs. Nat Neff. On their closing notes the doors from the hallway opened, and little Browning Hervey and Master Clarence Sprague, all in dainty white, and carrying baskets of the tiny chrysanthemums, formed with ribbons an aisle for the bride party. The bride's sister, who just three weeks ago became Mrs. Hollis Knowlton of Placencia, was her only attendant. She wore a gown of orchid georgette crepe, and carried pink rose buds and maiden-hair fern. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Harvey Gardner, and looked unusually lovely in her gown of embroidered georgette crepe, over silk, tulle veil fastened with orange blossoms, and shower bouquet of white rose buds and maiden-hair fern, the bridal white setting off her brilliant coloring. The groom approached from the opposite side, and was accompanied by Robert Walker, his cousin, as best man, and preceded by Rev. W. L. H. Benton, who performed the ceremony, at the conclusion of which Mrs. Searle sang "The Year's at the Spring," while Mr. and Mrs. Clayton received the congratulations and best wishes of their friends.

A special table for the wedding party was laid in the dining room, which was very beautiful with a large centerpiece of the orchid button chrysanthemums.

themums, four candles and other appointments. Light refreshments were served bearing out the general color scheme, at which time pieces of wedding cake, wrapped ready to dream upon, were passed to each guest. Mrs. Gardner was assisted in serving by the Misses Lauritzen, Woodard, Mansur, Flora Hill, Grace White, Gertrude Potts, Grace Carson, and Edna Beatty, who later gathered in a group with other guests to catch the bride's bouquet.

There were a number of out-of-town guests, relatives and friends of the bride and groom, from Los Angeles, Glendale, Ventura, Sierra Madre and San Diego.

At the close of the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton left for Berkeley and Glendale Springs, Colo., for a week's honeymoon. The bride's going-away gown was of purple velvet, with hat and accessories to match. An opportunity was given the friends to see the many beautiful wedding gifts.

The young couple will make their future home in Sterling, Colo., where Mr. Clayton is in the wholesale poultry business. They will carry with them the best wishes of their many friends for their future success and happiness.

Nuns from San Francisco

Sister Antoinette and Sister Matilda of the Dominican convent high school at San Francisco, who have been here visiting Sister Antoinette's family, left this evening for the North.

Sister Antoinette was Miss Orrie Forgang and was called here by the serious illness of her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Bradiger, who, however, is much improved.

While here, many of her old friends enjoyed a visit with her. She is much pleased with her high school work.

Attend Reception

Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Kellogg and daughters, Helen and Rose, and sons, Harold and Franklin, were among those who attended the reception given Judge Bledsoe, Grand Commander of the Commanderies of the state, at the Auditorium in Los Angeles Saturday evening.

About twenty-five were in attendance from Santa Ana.

Hundreds of Sir Knights in their black and white plumed regalia made a brilliant showing. After a grand review the drill teams, Los Angeles, Long Beach and Alhambra, gave an exhibition drill which was most interesting and called forth much applause.

Judge Bledsoe made a stirring address and Governor Stephens paid a glowing tribute to the Grand Commander. Dancing until nearly midnight closed the evening's festivities.

Judge Bledsoe installed the present officers of Santa Ana Commandery No. 36. He is a warm personal friend of Mr. Kellogg. Years ago, while surveying for the judge, Mr. Kellogg became very ill, far from medical assistance, and Mr. Kellogg owes his successful recovery to the thoughtful care of Judge Bledsoe and his young wife.

Superintendent to Live Here

Numerous gracious and expressive ways have been found in the course of the past few weeks to say "farewell" and "good luck" to the Carl V. Newmans of Santa Paula, as they leave soon to make their new home in Tustin, where Mr. Newman will take up the superintendent's work on the great ranch of the San Joaquin Fruit Company.

During the time that Mr. and Mrs. Newman have made their home on the Limonera ranch, they have been active in the club and social activities of the community, and while their friends are happy for them in their new situation, in which Mr. Newman will have an opportunity to expand his chosen horticultural work, they are reluctant to lose them from the life of Santa Paula. In addition to the farewell dance-concert which was given at the Ebell club house recently by Mr. and Mrs. James Culbertson and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Britton Bowker, at which friends from all parts of Ventura county had the chance to voice their good wishes, there have been many smaller and less formal affairs for Mrs. Newman in anticipation of her departure. Mrs. Newman has been a member and active worker in the Association of Collegiate Alumnae and in the Ebell, during her residence on the Limonera, and will, no doubt, enter into the same sort of circles in Tustin and Santa Ana, when the family is finally settled in its new location.

Mr. Newman is already established on the Tustin ranch and Mrs. Newman and their two sons will arrive there soon.

Return to Santa Ana

Prof. G. V. Linsenbard, who has been one of Los Angeles' most successful piano instructors for the past twenty years, has moved his family to Santa Ana to make this their home. Prof. Linsenbard is a graduate of the Royal Conservatoire of Leipzig, (Germany), where he graduated with high honors. The family will be glad to welcome their friends at their home, 415 West First street.

Prof Linsenbard still retains his class in Los Angeles.

Dramatic Honors Secured

Santa Ana again has the opportunity to be proud of her college representatives. This time the honors are being captured by Miss Mildred Murphy, who is making a name for herself through her work in Berkeley dramatic and musical circles.

Miss Murphy, who is majoring in Psychology and English, found time to try out for the Junior farce, and out of the many hundreds of girls, was chosen for the leading part of a "movie" vampire.

The farce is written by a college student and the cast selected, trained by professionals. This year it was staged in the Oakland auditorium.

The part of a "movie" queen naturally calls for stunning attire and Miss Murphy's dark beauty showed to advantage the exclusive gowns loaned by Leibes of San Francisco for the event.

Her mother, Mrs. E. L. Madden, who has just returned from a two months' journey through the east, had the pleasure of seeing her in this production and in another, a musical comedy given by "The Treble Clef," an honor musical society. Herr Paul Seindorf was the leader and director of this attraction.

During her trip in the east Mrs. Madden visited a brother in Colorado, her old home in St. Louis, Denver and Chicago, including a number of "side trips," returning Sunday evening. She had a delightful visit with friends and relatives but there's no place like home, especially when it's in California, and Mrs. Madden is happy to be here again.

Round Table Discussion

The Intermediate P. T. A. will meet on Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the auditorium. Besides special music, there will be round table with the following topics for discussion: Appropriate Drama for Intermediate Girls; Intermediate Students and Social Life; Athletic Activities.

All mothers of these grades should attend and take part in these important discussions.

The leaders for each afternoon are Mesdames E. B. Covington, A. A. Jones and Henry Donan. An interesting program will be prepared for each afternoon. All missionary ladies and ladies of the church are urged to attend the meetings.

Pretty Wedding at Tustin

A pretty wedding occurred in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Vaughn, of Tustin, last Saturday evening, when D. Hardcastle and Miss Julia Jones, both of Tustin, were united in the bonds of matrimony.

Only the immediate family was present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. L. Parks, of the United Brethren Church, using the ring ceremony.

Mrs. Hardcastle is possessed of considerable musical ability and during the past year has been quite active in the work of the church in the service of song and as a teacher in the Sunday school.

Mr. Hardcastle has been the successful dairyman of Tustin; a steady, industrious business man.

Their plans at present are to make Riverside their home. The good wishes of their many friends will follow them wherever they locate.

Guest of Honor at Luncheon

A pretty courtesy was extended Mrs. Mark Lacy Saturday, when Mrs. E. D. White and Mrs. J. M. Cloyes were hostesses at a luncheon given in her honor.

After the greetings the guests found their places at two large tables attractive in their autumn color motifs and appointments of yellow and white. Bowls of yellow chrysanthemums centered the tables. Further observance of the color motif was carried out in the ices shaped as kewpies and tied with yellow mallow bows.

A pleasant hour or so was enjoyed during the progress of the luncheon and later continued in the living room.

Guests were: Mesdames Harry Hansen, Edward McWilliams, W. H. Spurgeon, William McFadden, F. C. Rowland, Otto Haan, Elliott Rowland, J. C. Roberts, S. E. Babson, Charles Kelley, Charles Riggs, W. L. ## American-Made Goods in Stores of Sinaloa May Be Replaced With German

WHILE American-made goods are the goods that predominate in the stores of Sinaloa, Mexico, today, those goods are handled largely through German wholesale houses.

A. M. McDermott of Santa Ana, a mining man now at Fuerte, Sinaloa, sends this information to the Register, and adds that "it does not take a stretch of the imagination to think that the time may come when it may not be American-made goods that will be sold in the stores."

McDermott, well known here, returned to Mexico a few weeks ago as general manager for a large corporation that had to cease operations several years ago but which upon McDermott's recommendation is now opening up again.

Concerning opportunities and possibilities in Sinaloa, McDermott has written the following very interesting letter to the Register:

Fuerte, Sinaloa, Mex., Oct. 21, '19.
"So many Santa Ana people have asked me about this section of Mexico that I am going to write you some facts concerning Sinaloa that may prove of interest.

"The State of Sinaloa is about 400 miles long from north to south with an average width of about 90 miles. It is crossed from east to west by ten real rivers and five large arroyos, which carry water much of the year. This configuration gives a valley reaching nearly or entirely across the state about every 30 miles. Each valley has sufficient water available for the cultivation of all the irrigable lands.

AVERAGE RAINFALL
"The average rainfall in the most northerly valley, the Fuerte, is from 14 to 17 inches and the rainfall increases the farther south you go. The greater part of the rainfall comes between July 1 and September 15 and no irrigation is necessary during that period or usually for a month afterward. Then there are usually light rains in the valleys but heavy in the high mountains about the first of the year—sooner or later—and frequently these rains bring the river flow to as high a mark as they reached during the summer rainy season.

"Mr. Fays, a mining engineer and agriculturalist, well known both in the United States and Mexico and perhaps better posted on the actual topography of Sinaloa than any other man, told me that this state, in his judgment, is easily capable of supporting a population of 25,000,000 people.

"He also assures me there is scarcely a settlement in the state or a highway or other native improvement that was not here 200 years ago. Of course foreigners have opened up some mines and put in some railroads and brought a few acres of land under more modern cultivation, but leaving these things out, the total change in 200 years is negligible.

"We get the force of this better by comparison with our own country. Here 200 years ago the white man had settled all over the state and the whole area was nominally civilized. Two hundred years ago practically all of the United States west of the Mississippi and much east of it, was unexplored wilderness.

SUGAR CANE GROWING
"The early Spanish explorers came into this section and found it good and stayed here.

"In this valley, there are two large sugar cane districts and two sugar refineries. The cane once planted is harvested each year for six or seven years before it is necessary to plow it up and replant. During these several years one cultivation a year is as much as the average cane field gets and still the average yield is up around 20 tons of cane per acre per year, and I am informed that an average as high as 40 tons per acre has been secured by some who have taken a little extra care of their land.

"Some years ago some of the cane growers became dissatisfied with the sugar company, which was paying 4.50 pesos (about $2.25) per ton for cane and so they commenced to grow other things, such as alfalfa, winter tomatoes, etc. Corn and beans have been grown here since there is any record.

"For about ten years the tomato growers shipped their product for marketing through commission men and the average price received per box for the ten years was 60 cents. Thirty cents a box is considered sufficient allowance for all expenses in connection with preparing the ground, growing, picking and delivering the tomatoes to the packing house, so that was a fair profit. Last year the growers formed a vegetable union and marketed their own product, with the result that they received net F.O.B. packing house, $1.49 per box, American money. Two hundred packed boxes per acre is considered a fair yield. One man told me he had shipped two or three years ago 1600 packed boxes from five acres and although last year was an off year his tomato patch brought him in $237.50 per acre at the packing house. All this on land held at $100 per acre when improved and with water. There are tens of thousands of acres of just as good undeveloped land in these valleys.

MANY OPPORTUNITIES
"There are now three tomato shipping organizations, besides independent commission men, working in this state. The largest of these associations, the Vegetable Union, has already made a contract for this year in which they guarantee an output of 1,000,000 packed boxes of tomatoes. "This is a brief summary of what has developed in one special line. This can be enlarged. There are equal opportunities in various other agricultural lines—in grain growing, rice growing (there are 7000 acres of rice in the Yaqui Valley this year); almost unlimited possibilities in fruit growing, and the same may be said of stock raising.

"The man who was government soil expert for British Columbia for the last several years has settled in this state this year. In commenting on the productivity of the soil, he said he had examined the annual record of production of one tract of about 250 acres a part of a larger ranch. The records cover every year for over 100 years, showing a continuous cropping in either corn, beans or tobacco, and many seasons two crops a year, without a single failure. The owner says he has every reason to believe that the same kind of cropping had been carried on for at least 200 years before the records now on hand were started.

"The climate is ideal for vegetables. It is too sultry to please some of us for a couple of months during the rainy season, but fine all the rest of the year.

GOODS IN STORES
"All business is done here at the present time by means of American money, except buying postage stamps, sending telegrams or other things where you are dealing directly with the federal government.

"Practically all merchandise for sale in the stores is from the United States but is nearly all brought in through German wholesale houses which have greatly increased their hold on the mercantile business of the state during the past year by establishing many branches in the smaller towns. It does not take any stretch of the imagination to think that the time may come when it may not be American-made goods that are being sold in all these stores.

"Whatever the enterprise that may be undertaken here, the money to carry it to a successful conclusion must be brought in from outside for there is neither money nor credit among the native element. The Germans and, to some extent, the British, are realizing the opportunities offered by this country and improving them much more than are the Americans.

"Naturally the reader will say, with such resources why does not this country show greater development, and I will simply reply at this time that THERE ARE REASONS."

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 10.—Forest rangers coming in from the interior ranges, report to Supervisor Hall of the forestry service the presence of a deep mantle of snow, the first of the season, which is covering the northern canyons and still lingers on the higher peaks. The last week, the rangers say, has seen two snow flurries.

EL CENTRO, Nov. 10.—This city will soon vote on a bond issue aggregating $200,000 for the improvement of the water system, a fire alarm system and a new city hall. It has been found that the problem of taking care of the silt from the settling pools is becoming difficult. The trustees plan to construct new settling basins on the bank of New river, flushing the silt into the channel, or as an alternative to establish the basins two miles south of the city and flush them from that point.

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 10.—The management of the Belvedere Hotel is planning another paper chase, which is set for Thanksgiving Day. Esther Hammond has been selected as master of the chase, with her sister, Mary Hammond, as assistant. From fifty to sixty riders will participate, and a feast at the Belvedere will conclude the riding.

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 10.—The Pacific Balloon Company, the latest industry to be located here, has filed articles of incorporation. The capital stock is fixed at $100,000, of which amount directors have subscribed amounts as follows: Donald Fullerton, $50,000; H. A. Dodge, $19,900; H. T. Dodge, $100. The factory building is in course of construction at the site on Blaine street.

SOLDIERS' HOME, Nov. 10.—During the month of October, 118 members were discharged from this branch on their "own request." It is the greatest number of "quitters" ever recorded for any month at this season of the year. It is accounted for, however, by the fact that many of the members have obtained employment suited to their condition outside of the home.

ONTARIO, Nov. 10.—Planning another stride toward actual equal suffrage, Ontario and County Club women are planning to introduce at the coming convention of the Southern District Federation of Women's Clubs here next week resolutions looking toward participation by women in grand jury investigations.

WHIPPING AT POST FOR AUTO THIEVES

Judge H. C. Conrad of the Court of General Sessions at Wilmington, Del., has served notice on motor thieves that the next ones brought before him will be sentenced to be whipped at the post at the county workhouse. The warning was given after Robert Bradley, who pleaded guilty to stealing a car belonging to Arthur Matthews, was sentenced to two years.

MINORS CENSUS WILL BE TAKEN THIS MONTH

Its Purposes Are Outlined In a Statement By State Superintendent

The census of minors that is now being taken all over the state is of big importance to school work, and particularly to those with whom conditions for getting an education have not been and are not encouraging.

The census is now being taken in Orange county. An enumerator has been appointed in every school district in the county, with two in Santa Ana. The reports are to be finished during the month of November.

Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, has issued a resume of the law for the registration of minors passed by the last legislature. This resume reads as follows:

"Briefly the law contemplates:
"First, the securing of a complete census of all minors.

"Second, the enumeration of all minors of school age who are employed during the regular hours in which school is in session.

"Third, the segregation of information concerning minors who because of physical handicap (being blind, deaf, dumb or crippled), should be given special education.

"The last legislature passed an act requiring the enumeration of all males born on or after November 1, 1898, and all females born on or after November 1, 1901. This census or enumeration is to be taken during the month of November, 1919.

"The person taking the census is appointed by the school authorities and is called a Registrar of Minors. It is the duty of this registrar to visit every home in the district and to gather the following information:

"The name of the family; the nativity (country of birth) of the father, the mother, and the minor children; the sex of the minor children; the race; date of birth—month, date, year; the age at last birthday; the occupation, if the minor is working; the name of the school which the minor attends, if he is attending school; the name of the employer, if he is working; the address of the school, if he is attending a private school; the address of the employer, if he is working; the grade he is in school; the statement as to whether the minor is crippled, blind, deaf or dumb.

"The purpose is to assist in giving better educational opportunities to those who are employed, and also to those who, because of one or more of the afflictions mentioned above, are unable to secure an education in the regular schools provided for their more fortunate fellows.

"By being prepared to give this information to the registrar when he or she calls, you will render a service to the school authorities, and at the same time make the work easier for the registrar. By speaking to your neighbors about this and asking them to comply with the request of the registrar for information, you will do a further service."

OLD NEWPORT BEAN GROWERS ORGANIZE

Articles of incorporation of the Old Newport Lima Bean Growers' Association were placed on file Saturday. Lima bean growers in Old Newport section are associating themselves under the provisions of state laws relating to the formation of non-profit, co-operative agricultural associations. They plan to market beans on a uniform plan and in such a manner as to bring about standard quality. Those on the board of directors are F. D. Plavan, W. L. Wakeham, Charles E. Borchard, W. R. McClintock and Stephen Grimes. Each member of the organization will be entitled to one vote for each 2000 pounds of beans handled for him by the association.

Her clothing caught fire from the gas stove about 9 o'clock Thursday morning before her daughter-in-law could extinguish the flames, injuries were inflicted that resulted in death this morning.

Funeral services were held at the Read residence Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

SHAFT STRIPS OILER WHO ESCAPES UNHURT

VINA, Nev., Nov. 10.—With every stitch of clothing stripped from his body, G. W. Pearl, an oiler, employed in the mill of the Olympic Mines Company, was picked up from the floor of the mill by fellow employees and found to have suffered no serious injury despite the fact that he was whirled around a rapidly moving shafting several times.

Pearl was oiling the line shafting in the mill when his clothing was entangled in a setscrew on the shafting. The clothing held fast for a few seconds and he was pulled onto the shafting and whirled around. How many times he went around he could not tell, but when his clothes finally gave way he was shot to the floor of the mill and had nothing on but his shoes.

He has a few bruises to show for his experience.

MINISTERS USED TO FEAR THE MOTOR CAR

It was not so long ago that many ministers decried the motor car because it kept their congregations from attending religious services on Sunday. They held that many persons who owned motor cars planned "Sunday outings" in them with no thought of religious worship, and that in consequence the power of the church should be directed against them. Motor cars were cried down in those days just as golf is cried down in many localities—as a menace to the old Sunday worship.

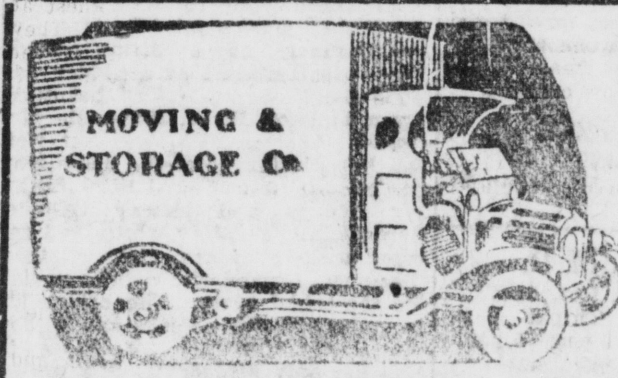

Even in those days, however, there were some ministers who held that the motor car was really providing a new form of worship; that they furnished a means whereby persons who had never before had the opportunity were able to get out into the great out-of-doors and there worship their Maker in the open spaces as they never would have been able to worship Him within the confines of four church walls.

Were Opposed to Car
But these were in the small—almost unheard from—minority. For the most part ministers of all denominations were opposed to the motor car. They held that its distractions more than offset its advantage. They believed that while some few persons might be brought to a greater appreciation of the Almighty by getting into the great open, more persons who otherwise would have attended religious services merely were distracted by the motor car from their worship.

But the minister of the present does not inveigh against the motor car, and to his mind, it is almost an un-mixed blessing. The chances are he himself drives his car to get to his church and has been converted to the motor car—or perhaps it might be more proper to say that the motor car has been converted from a distraction from worship to a real assistance.

Reversal in Opinion
Now there is a real reversal of the pendulum of ministerial opinion. Both in the city and the country the motor car has been found an efficacious aid to Sunday worship. It has followed the growth of the motor car from a "pleasure vehicle" to a real necessity.

Weak and delicate women, men tired from long work through the week and from Saturday nights when, perhaps their stores are kept open, feel the exertion of the walk to church Sunday morning even in the cities. They are too weary to make this exertion. Rather than make it they stay at home. Or they did stay home until the motor car changed going to church from an irksome duty to a pleasant outing.

PORTLAND MAN GAINED 30 POUNDS

"I Now Understand Why So Many People Praise Tanlac," Says McGill.

"I have gained thirty pounds since I commenced taking this Tanlac, and haven't felt so well in twenty-five years," said C. A. McGill, a well known employee of the Coast Shipyard, and who lives at 1043 East Fifteenth St., Portland, Ore., while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

"I can now understand why so many people all over the United States and Canada are publicly endorsing Tanlac," continued Mr. McGill, "for I have tried it myself, and out of all the medicine and treatments I have taken during the past twelve years, Tanlac is the only thing that has done me any good at all. I suffered something awful from stomach and kidney troubles and ever since these troubles I have grown worse. Everything I ate began my condition had gradually soured on my stomach and I would be bloated up with gas for hours at a time, and suffered terribly for shortness of breath. I had pains in the small of my back nearly all the time, and when I stooped over for anything I could hardly straighten up again. I seldom ever got a good night's rest, and felt just as tired and worn out every morning as I did when I went to bed at night. In fact, I had a tired, draggy feeling all the time, and it just seemed that all my energy had left me. I suffered from constipation, too, and often had raging headaches, and finally got to where I would be completely exhausted if I walked only a few blocks.

"To tell the truth, I was just about disgusted with medicine, and everything else for that matter, but I had read so much about Tanlac helping others that I decided to see what it would do for me. Well, sir, Tanlac gave me the surprise of my life, for by the time I had finished my first bottle of this medicine I was feeling like a different man altogether. I stuck to Tanlac until I had taken seven bottles, and now you won't find a healthier or stronger man anywhere than I am. It is simply wonderful the way I have gained in weight and strength. The truth of the matter is, Tanlac just knocked my troubles winding, and I am in such fine condition now that I can do as much work in a day as I ever could. I have a good appetite and eat just anything that is set before me, and as much as I want, and I never suffer the least bit afterwards. The pains in my back are a thing of the past, and so are the headaches, and when I hit the bed at night I go to sleep and am dead to the world until time to get up in the morning. I don't have to take medicine of any kind now, but if I ever do again, I will certainly be Tanlac. I am buying this bottle for my wife, as she seems to be in a badly run down condition, and I believe Tanlac will straighten her up all right."

Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co., in Fullerton by G. W. Fitch, in La Habra by R. H. Hillbert, in Huntington Beach by Riddell's Pharmacy, in Orange by Riddell's Mission Pharmacy, in Placentia by A. J. ## NEWS OF GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 10.—Mrs. G. R. Reyburn was hostess to the Foreign Missionary society, of which she is president, Wednesday. Devotions, "The Blind Receive Their Sight," were conducted by Mrs. Wm. Morrell. Mrs. Reyburn had charge of the lesson, the topic being "A Crusade of Compassion in India," chapter II. The sub-topics discussed were: "General Conditions and Practice Among Secluded Women," "Centers of Compassion, Christian Hospitals," "Almoners of Healing, Their Training and Effective Service." Mrs. Jackson had charge of the mystery box. Dainty collation was served by the hostess.

The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Waltz, with Mrs. A. J. Chaffee, program leader.

The Garden Grove Chamber of Commerce will meet in regular session at the Bank building this evening at 7 o'clock.

In response to a request from the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles for available room for tourists, Secretary G. R. Reyburn is listing all such rooms.

The Epworth League will hold services in the Methodist church each evening, at 7:30, except Saturday evening, beginning last evening, and closing Sunday evening, Nov. 16. This is the week annually observed by the Epworth League as "Win-My-Chain Week."

The Fullerton Epworth League will have charge of the Thursday evening meeting, Friday evening and the closing evening will be in charge of a Y. M. C. A. team from the U. S. C. Everybody is cordially invited to be present.

Rev. F. A. Ames is holding evangelistic services each evening at the Free Methodist church. Neighboring pastors are assisting in the meetings.

P. M. German has returned from Camp Kearny, where he has been in the Y. M. C. A. work the past year.

The P. T. A. members held their November meeting Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the school building. Mrs. Harper gave an account of the congress of mothers and P. T. A. convention, held in Santa Ana, Oct. 11. Plans were made to hold the December meeting in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Lake and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Adams, of Anaheim, returned Sunday from a few days' visit at Warner Hot Springs and San Diego. They also visited Tia Juana.

Harry Heckman, of San Francisco, was a Monday and Tuesday guest at the home of Warren A. Wheeler. They were coming in Colorado before either was married. He has accepted a position at Orange where he will be joined by his wife and son in the near future.

Rev. and Mrs. Harkness and Mrs. C. C. Vogel were Thursday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Lampman.

Mrs. C. B. Crosby returned Thursday from Los Angeles, where she has been at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Samuel Wight.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Steele and daughter, Miss Clara, returned Tuesday from a two months' visit to their former home at Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Steele says he was amazed at the prosperity manifested in Ohio. They returned via the scenic D. & R. G. through Colorado, and were fortunate enough to have a delightful view of the Royal Gorge and Feather River canyon. Notwithstanding the prosperity and many other allurements, they are glad to return and remain in the Sunny Southland.

C. B. Crosby drove to Los Angeles Wednesday evening, expecting to return home with his wife the following day. At the intersection of 48th street and Vermont avenue, about 8 p. m., an L. A. car without lights struck his Dodge, pushing it 60 feet before brought to a stop. That Crosby was not killed is a miracle, but no broken bones. Fortunately the Dodge did not turn over and the steering wheel protected him, but the machine is a total wreck. A traffic manager and a number of eye-witnesses say it was clearly the fault of the motorist.

Mrs. F. E. Harrison is suffering from an infected finger, caused from being struck by the fin of a fish at Laguna last week. She is at present spending a few days at the home of her sister, Mrs. Moody, at Orange.

H. Burton, of Long Beach, who owns a ten-acre walnut grove two miles north of town, has harvested his 1919 crop and it far exceeds his expectation. Not at all conservative he gave the association a pre-crop estimate of five tons and his delivery checks show eight and one-half tons.

The W. C. T. U. held a silver medal contest in the school auditorium Friday evening. The invocation was given by Rev. Harkness, pastor of the Methodist church. The audience sang "Glory, Jubilee Song." The contestants were:

Elsie Smith—"Young Fellow, My Lad,"

Frank Thompson—"Wounded,"

Laverne Hudson—"Broken Window Panes,"

Mildred Deck—"A Political Parade,"

Allie Clark—"Put Yourself in His Place,"

Jewel Thatch—"In the Shadow of the Mountains,"

The judges, Mrs. G. W. Rolfe, Mrs. E. M. Dozier and Mrs. J. W. Steele, awarded the medal to Elsie Smith. A quintet by Misses Thelma and Ethel Emerson, Edith Beardsley, Chassie Hammon and Maria Magnusson, was greatly enjoyed. Benediction was invoked by Rev. F. A. Ames, pastor of the Free Methodist church.

A delightful social function was the "Draft Social" at the Methodist church Friday evening, enjoyed by the Epworth League and their friends. Thirty young people answered to the "Draft" and games representing the various activities of army life, as "digging in," "over the top" and "mess" provoked a great deal of laughter. When the bugle sounded "mess" hot chocolate and doughnuts were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nichols and little son, and the former's brother, Homer, arrived Saturday from Martinez, Contra Costa county, and have taken possession of their ranch west of town. Carl Nichols has been farm advisor to Contra Costa county, which position he resigned to take charge of his ranch. The ranch consists of 40 acres, 25 acres of which is set to oranges and 15 acres to walnuts. He has had his ranch leased the past seven years to W. T. Adams. Mr. Adams has moved his family to Exeter, where he has leased another ranch from Mr. Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Bralley arrived Friday to spend the winter with Mrs. Bralley's sister, Mrs. Frank Shrader. Mr. and Mrs. Shrader recently purchased the Samuel Wight place. Mr. and Mrs. Bralley reached Los Angeles on the Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Tourist Special of ten coaches. They are charmed with California and expect to come here to reside permanently.

E. E. McKee, of Denver, arrived Saturday for a visit at the home of his cousin, James Hammon. He expects to spend the winter in Southern California.

Claire McConnell arrived Wednesday from Muscatine, Iowa, and will spend the winter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McConnell, who have apartments in the Price block.

Ross Conkle has purchased a five-ton truck and is hauling beans to Los Angeles.

Miss Olive Northercross won the string of pearls given to "the most popular young lady" at the popularity contest at the dance at Orange Wednesday evening.

SCHOOL LANDS WILL BE SOLD AT AUCTION

A sale of school lands at public auction in the counties of Madera, Fresno, Tulare and Kern, will be held by W. S. Kingsbury, state surveyor general, at the court houses in said counties in the month of November. The surveyor general reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

The land in Madera county will be offered for sale at the court house in the city of Madera on November 18; that in Fresno county at the court house in the city of Fresno on November 19; that in Tulare county at the court house in the city of Visalia on November 21, and that in Kern county at the court house in the city of Bakersfield on November 24, at the hour of 9 o'clock a. m.

Madera county contains 1440 acres; Fresno county 4680 acres; Tulare county 2070 acres, and Kern county 14315 acres of vacant school land.

One hundred and twenty acres of the land in Tulare county contains immense deposits of lime suitable for use in the manufacture of cement.

For a list of the vacant school lands and information relative thereto, address Surveyor General, Sacramento, California.

ONE LOAD OF BEANS VALUED AT $4000

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 10.—The largest load of beans ever received at the Garden Grove Bean Growers' warehouse here, was delivered by A. Luebke, who lives northwest of Garden Grove. The beans were conveyed here by means of a large caterpillar tractor, to which was attached three trailers. The load contained twenty tons of limas, representing a value of considerably over $4,000. The mammoth load attracted considerable attention en route, and there was much speculation among passing motorists as to what the load consisted of and where it was bound for.

If you want a good social time come to the dance to be given by the Brotherhood of American Yeomen on Wednesday, November 12, 1919, at the Modern Woodman hall. Admission 50 cents per couple. Good music. Doors open at 8:30 p. m.

WILL SPEAK ON BUSINESS MEN AND FARMERS

Part Agriculture Plays In Relation to Other Things Subject of Talk

What part does agriculture play in the business world? What does the farmer produce in Orange county in comparison to other sources of wealth? A glance at statistics will show that in Orange county the total of farm products is double that of other natural resources—$40,000,000 for crops as compared with $23,000,000 for oil and minerals.

What relation does the farmer bear to the city business man? This question will be answered by W. S. Kingsbury, of Los Angeles, business man and farmer, and secretary of the Los Angeles Farm Bureau. Every Santa Ana business man should hear this address, to be delivered at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon at James' Wednesday this week.

H. B. Woodrugh, a director of the Orange County Farm Bureau, will discuss the California Federation of Farm Bureaus, a new organization, through which the farmer will enter on new relations with the business men of the state.

FARM ACCOUNTANT TO TALK AT VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, Nov. 10.—The farm center meets Wednesday. A. N. Nathan, farm account specialist of the University of California, will give a chart lecture on the keeping of farm accounts. With the income tax now, it is necessary for the farmer to keep his accounts segregated. The farm bureau will supply farm record books free to those who will keep them through the year.

H. B. Woodrugh will give a report on the State Federation of Farm Bureaus. He will explain how, through the state organization, the farmers will meet the big agricultural issues of the day.

This meeting will be held at the Villa Park hall Wednesday evening, November 12th. The regular date would have been Thanksgiving day. For that reason the advance in date was made.

It is a marvelous portrayal of the human body at its best. One beholds in its composite detail a true symbol of strength. It presents a figure of striking appearance in its erect carriage, clear skin, sparkling eyes, strong limbs, steady nerves and firm muscles, fairly vibrating in animation—keen, alert, fresh, and spirited; with an air of unbounded confidence and a face radiant in color and illumined with a glow of hope and cheerfulness.

Could Nature have taken you for her model? Suppose you study yourself in the mirror of the present and compare your looks, your feelings and your condition with the general characteristics of this picture of the human body in perfect working order, all parts of which are sound, well-organized and disposed, performing their functions freely, naturally, and harmoniously.

If you fail in any single point of resemblance, you are not the picture of health. It is imperative, then, that you look to a means to rebuild your strength, energy and vigor—to bring your body up to a normal state of efficiency in all of its parts.

The Great General Tonic

Nothing is more efficacious as a restorer of exhausted nerves and physical forces than LYKO, the great general tonic. It tends to renew the worn-out system, re-energize the blood, create new power and endurance, and revive the spirits of those who are weak, frail, languid and over-wrought as the result of sickness, excessive strain, worry or over-work. It's a reliable appetizer, a stimulant aid to digestion and a fine tonic regulator of the liver, kidneys and bowels.

• If druggists sell LYKO, get a bottle TODAY and you'll come to look more like the picture of health.

CHECKING up expenses is really a pleasant occupation, and a very simple thing to do when you deposit your money in a commercial account at this bank, and pay all bills by check.

Upon the stubs of your check book are the records of your expenditures, and the returned canceled checks are unfailing proofs of payment.

You will find your money goes further when you put it all in the bank, handling your transactions through a check book, and since you probably are as anxious to keep a portion, at least, of the money you receive for your business efforts as we could possibly be to have you, this suggestion may be helpful.

We will be very glad to explain the advantages of this form of account.

PEOPLE ASKING STATE ACTION UPON JAPS

Assemblyman Says There Is a Statewide Cry For Alien Control

"There is a statewide cry for some kind of legislation bearing upon the Japanese question," said Assemblyman Walter Eden today, following his return from Sacramento, where he attended the special session of the legislature that gave California's endorsement to the national woman's suffrage proposal. Following the special meeting, Eden spent several days in the northern part of the state before returning.

"I did not hear in detail any of the legislation that legislators may have in mind," said Eden. "In fact, it is highly probable that detailed plans have not been made. If they have been made, there was not a word said about them during the time the legislators were together. There just seems to be a general demand from the people all over the state for some kind of a law that will stop the aggression of the Japanese in farming sections of the state."

A good deal has been said in favor of preventing Japanese in this country from bringing picture brides here. California has a right to make its own marriage laws, and it can probably take some action to make such marriages illegal. Just what would develop should the picture bride weddings occur in other states would be interesting.

"The alien land law as it now stands in this state is dodged in a number of ways. Some law to prevent the leasing of land by Japanese may be in prospect."

"While the detail of what the legislators want to do has not been worked out, there is no question but that they want to do something. They asked the governor to call a special session of the legislature for January 5 to consider the Japanese question. Whether or not he will call the session was not made known. The committee that called upon him reported to us that, if the legislature did pass a resolution asking for a special session, the governor wished the date to be set well ahead of the present date."

"I found that the demand for action upon the Japanese question is strong all over the state. It is not from legislators alone by any means. I am thoroughly satisfied that the situation is regarded by the people of the state as serious, and that the people are anxious for action to be taken. The question is tangled up with national policies, but so far as California is concerned there is no question in my mind but that the people want something done and done right away."

Dentist's Bill and Shelled Corn Involved in Trial

WHETHER J. H. Lawrence of Huntington Beach, owes Dr. R. H. Chapin, dentist, $250 or $12, was expected to be settled in the Superior court today before Superior Judge Williams.

The action is an appeal case that reached the Superior court from Huntington Beach township. Attorney L. W. Blodgett brought the action for Dr. Chapin in the beach court, asking $10. Later in an amended complaint, Dr. Chapin demanded $12, instead of $10.

A quantity of shelled corn was attached. Attorney G. F. Kapp of Long Beach, moved to lift the attachment, claiming that the corn in question was necessary for feeding Lawrence's horses and cow, by which he made his living, in part, and was not subject to attachment.

Justice Warner overruled the Long Beach attorney's motion. The defense put in an answer, saying that the bill was only $10 to start with, and that Lawrence delivered four sacks of shelled corn to Dr. Chapin, by which the bill was reduced to $250.

When the trial came, the defense failed to appear, and Justice Warner awarded judgment of $12, with $9.75 costs. Then the defendant's attorney took an appeal. Evidently the strong point of the appellant is the beach court's ruling as to whether or not the corn was necessary to Lawrence's livelihood.

HELD TO ANSWER ON BAD CHECK CHARGE

Held to answer on a charge of uttering a fictitious check for $25, Harold Patterson was in the county jail today, awaiting trial in superior court. At Patterson's preliminary hearing Hugh La Rue, proprietor of a grocery at Cypress, was the complaining witness. The check in question was introduced in evidence. Testimony was given by La Rue, W. H. Musser, Mrs. Lizzie E. Musser and A. B. McCord. Bail was fixed at $1000. Deputy District Attorney W. F. Manton handled the case for the people.

C. S. CROOKSHANK IS FOREMAN OF GRAND JURY

Body Given Instructions By Judge West and Begins Its Duties

The 1919 grand jury was impaneled in Department 1 of the Superior Court, beginning at 10 o'clock this morning.

Those on the jury are L. M. Gardiner, O. E. Gunther, W. W. Dungan, E. E. Campbell, O. B. Byram, J. J. Harrison, W. W. Perry, I. L. Marchant, George McNeil, W. T. Christ, Archie Henry, J. C. Mitchell, John S. Sheridan, William Smith, C. S. Crookshank, H. J. May, W. T. Newland, Jr., F. D. Cook and Oscar Rosenbaum.

Superior Judge West appointed C. S. Crookshank foreman.

Excerpts from the court's instructions to the jury follow:

"The court instructs you, gentlemen of the jury, that the law requires the utmost secrecy in regard to your investigation of criminal charges, especially where the crime under investigation is a felony, and you, as a grand jury and as individual members thereof, are admonished that you must not disclose any evidence adduced before you as a grand jury, or divulge any statement or other thing that has been said or done before you as such body, or disclose how any member of your body may have voted on any matter before you."

Libel Warning Given.

"The provisions of Section 928, of the Penal Code, to the effect, 'that if a grand jury shall, in their report, comment upon any person or official who has not been indicted by the said grand jury, the said comments shall not be deemed to be privileged' does not operate as a limitation upon your power to comment upon the official conduct of the city and county officers. It is simply and only to the effect that if you unjustly and without good reason comment upon their official conduct, criticizing them without facts upon which to base your criticism, in such manner as to be libelous, you are not protected by the law, or in other words, it means that you must confine your criticism of public officers, and other persons, to the facts in the case, and that you are not permitted to use libelous or slanderous language toward any officer or any other person, while acting as a grand jury any more than you would be permitted to do as private citizens."

"I further say to you, gentlemen, that the principal business that will come before you will be to make a careful and complete examination of the books, records and accounts of all the officers of the county, and to this end, if in your judgment it is necessary, you are authorized and empowered to employ an expert at an agreed compensation, not to exceed $10 a day, to be first approved by the court, and, if in your judgment the services of an assistant or assistants to such expert are required, you have power to employ such at a compensation to be agreed upon and approved by the court, not to exceed, however, $5 per day for such assistant."

The court then called attention to the fact that criminal prosecutions can be more readily and economically made through the office of the district attorney than by indictment through the grand jury.

"Permit me, gentlemen," the court said, in conclusion, "to direct your attention to the necessity of arranging your work so that your duties may be accomplished in the shortest possible time, to the end that the greatest economy to the county may be conserved."

After the jury had been instructed, it retired to begin its duties. A secretary was to be appointed, and it was to be decided who would be retained as accountancy expert.

STOCKTON DOCK MEN DECLARE STRIKE OFF

STOCKTON, Cal., Nov. 10.—The dock workers' strike, which has been on here for the past three months, was declared off by the Central Labor Council today by a vote of nearly 5 to 1. About 200 workers were affected. The strike was called at about the same time the river steamer workers went out, and it is understood a break between the two forces was responsible for the dock workers returning to work.

GOES TO CONFERENCE AS LOCAL DELEGATE

As a member of the Santa Ana Realty Board and former State Realty Commissioner, Freeman Bloodgood today received an invitation to attend the Better Community Conference to be held in Los Angeles Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the Southern Branch of the University of California. The executive committee of the local board has authorized him to attend the meeting as a delegate from this city.

Better homes, the work of the state housing and immigration commission, the efforts to house their workers by employers and city planning will be among the subjects that will come up for consideration.

"Conditions are steadily growing worse in our country," said Bloodgood this afternoon. "Americans must stand together if we are to come out of them satisfactorily. In order that some plan of concerted action throughout the state and that individuals may become better acquainted with conditions all over Southern California, this conference is to be held under the auspices of the California Teachers Association immediately following adjournment of the southern section of the California teachers association."

Representatives of many public bodies have been invited to attend the conference, which promises to be of great importance. Among them are the following: Chamber of Commerce, Municipal leagues, city clubs, the American Legion, Community Councils, Employers' Associations, labor organizations, Women's Clubs, Ministers' Associations, state and city officers, the press, farmers' organizations, professional organizations, etc.

The Sycamore Rebekahs will give a dance in the I. O. O. F. hall Nov. 11. Everybody welcome. Admittance 25c.

Frank Johnson Again Found Bound and Gagged

ROBED AS GHOST, MYSTERY MAN STRIKES BOY IN CELLAR

Victim Last Evening Fastened to Post With Lariat and Rope

Mystery in the tying and gagging of Frank Johnson at his home at 818 South Main street last Monday evening was deepened last night when the boy was again found gagged and tied to a post in the cellar at the family home.

His father found him in this predicament about 5 o'clock upon returning from a visit to friends. Whether the boy is a victim of pranks by older boys or whether a burglar is really camping on his trail are points that the police have been unable to clear up.

The boy describes his assailant of last night as a big man with dark hair, who wore a mask and whose clothes were covered with a white shroud that reached to his shoe tops.

His father and mother left home about 4 o'clock to drive up town on an errand and later to visit friends. They asked the boy to go with them, but he said that he preferred to stay at home. He declares that immediately after they left he went into the house, cracked a walnut and ate the kernel, following which he went down to the cellar for the purpose of securing a box for his white rat. He alleges that when he stepped into the cellar, the man stepped from behind the chimney with a club in his hand and warned him not to yell under penalty of being hit over the head with the club. This is the last he remembers.

The boy's feet were bound to the post with a rope, while the upper part of his body was tied with a lariat. The lariat was tied with a loose knot and the whole had slipped down below the shoulders when the father found the boy.

Discovered by Father. Upon returning home the father stepped into the cellar to get some chicken feed. It was rather dark. He saw one of the slippers worn by Frank and called to Mrs. Johnson and asked her if she knew what it was doing there. He was just turning to leave the cellar when he happened to see the boy tied to the post. The lad seemed to be unconscious, and could not respond when his father spoke to him. A red mark across his forehead is believed to have been the result of being struck over the head.

The gag was formed of a corset cover, which Mrs. Johnson says was on the back porch, upstairs, indicating that the man had been upstairs. In view of the fact that the assault on the boy occurred so soon after the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, it is believed the man was either in the house or in the cellar while they were at home.

Officers made a thorough search of the premises, including the basement and failed to find anything that would give the slightest clue.

Nothing was disturbed about the house. Evidently the party responsible for the boy's condition was not after plunder.

First of Serbian Girls Arrives To Obtain Education

Nine Others Are Chosen to Study in America and Teach Sisters

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Yes, indeed, Serbia has a lot of pretty girls and many brainy ones also. One of them is Miss Militsa Veljitch, who has some American ways but is going to learn a lot more and go back home to teach her sisters.

Miss Veljitch is the first of ten Serbian young women who have been selected to come to America for an education that they may help other Serbian women to rise above their present level. Miss Veljitch will begin her studies without delay and may be enrolled in several colleges, taking different courses before her return home. She already has the base for a good American education.

SUGAR SITUATION SHOWS NO CHANGE

While beet sugar factories today raised the price on their product 50 cents per bag, placing the present rate at $10.50, J. S. Smart, president of the Smart & Final company, wholesale grocers of this city, does not believe that there will be other advances before the first of the year. The company's price is now $11.35 per bag.

"There is practically no change in the sugar situation," said Smart. "While there is no cane sugar available for this territory, there is every reason to believe that the beet sugar supply will last until the first of the year, when cane stocks will be available. The beet stock will last if the present ratio of apportionment is continued, that is, two pounds per family per week."

"I look for no more advances in price, the government having requested the beet sugar refiners to keep the price where it is now."

STRUCK BY AUTO BOY SUFFERS FRACTURE OF RIGHT LEG

Ray Weiss, Tustin, Injured Severely By G. W. Stinchfield Car

Ray Weiss, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Weiss, of Prospect avenue, Tustin today is at the Santa Ana hospital suffering from a compound fracture of the right leg and other injuries as the result of being struck Saturday afternoon in front of his home by an automobile driven by G. W. Stinchfield, of 194 South Pine street, Orange. Stinchfield was arrested at Laguna Beach about 7:30 that evening by Constable Jubb, following a request sent to him from the sheriff's office to take Stinchfield into custody. Stinchfield was released on his own recognizance.

The boy had just entered the roadway from the driveway of his home when the Stinchfield car came along, pulling a trailer. The boy was struck and knocked down, but was not rendered unconscious. He sat up immediately and declares that the man driving the car looked back and saw him, did not stop to render assistance. He was able to give a description of the outfit, which resulted later in the arrest of the Orange man. The boy is not certain as to whether he was hit by the automobile or trailer. Mr. Brendle, employed on the San Juan place, picked the boy up and carried him home and later he was removed to the hospital in the Mills & Winbiger ambulance. The Weiss home is the old Uff place, just north of First street and west of the J. S. Rice place.

Stinchfield, the father of the boy and Barney Crawford of Tustin, were in conference yesterday, and later determination will be made as to what course will be taken in handling the case. Stinchfield denies that he knew he hit the boy. He does admit turning around and looking back, but declares that he did not see the boy lying in the street.

Four Hurt in Auto Accident. A party of four residents of Los Angeles were treated at the Santa Ana hospital yesterday forenoon for injuries sustained when a car in which they were riding turned turtle on the state highway south of Tustin. They were Ed Sutton, 1362½ East Vernon, lacerations of the face and bruises; Juliet Crehan, 618½ West Sixth, fracture of the clavicle and contusions; Caroline Potwora, 444 Grand avenue, face scratches and bruises, and Florence Meckordridge, 1362½ East Vernon, bruises. A locked steering gear is held responsible for this accident.

They returned to their homes in Los Angeles after being treated. Ed Ward, baker at Orange, at 8:00 o'clock last night drove his car into a collision with a Dodge machine of the Crown Stage line. Ward lives on West Chapman, just outside the city limits of Orange, his home being on the south side of the street. He was driving home from Orange and tried to cut across the street and into his driveway ahead of the Dodge approaching from the opposite direction. One of the front wheels of his car was wrecked. There were four passengers in the stage, but none was hurt.

Woman's Hunt for Santa Ana Saloon Puzzle To Morrow

THE shabby-looking Mexican woman reiterated, in her voluble, broken English, that the Spanish paper had said that old clothing would be given away at a saloon in Santa Ana.

E. S. Morrow, local manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, had a harassed and helpless look. He gazed up and down Main street and up and down Fifth—he was standing on the corner of the two streets.

"Madam," he said in his politest tones, "I have been looking for a saloon in Santa Ana for ten years, but have never yet managed to find one. Besides, I have never known old clothes to be given away at any saloon."

Perplexed, the shabby Mexican woman went her way. Later, Morrow passed the grocery store of E. C. Blauer, 210 West Fourth. In the window he saw a number of quart bottles of bluing, which, to the uninitiated, might easily be taken for vinous refreshments of some sort. Also, there was a card, announcing a rummage sale at the I. O. O. F. hall.

Morrow said today that the woman might have become interested in the bottles and in the first three letters of the word rummage.

But—how the woman could have been sufficiently versed in English to understand the significance of those three letters, Morrow does not explain.

SEASON'S FIRST VISITS PAID BY J. FROST

With the thermometers registering 30 degrees above zero at 6 o'clock this morning and yesterday morning, Santa Ana experienced its coldest weather so far this season, according to Frank Greenleaf, in charge of the local weather bureau. There were light frosts both mornings.

Despite these low temperatures, however, Greenleaf states, horticulturists had no cause for worry, as thermometer must drop to 27 degrees before oranges become endangered, and even then practically no damage is done.

At 6 o'clock Saturday morning Greenleaf's thermometer registered 33 degrees above zero.

Yesterday the warmest temperature reached was 69 degrees.

The present lowered temperatures are somewhat unusual for this time of the year, it is stated.

"Last year the government sent warnings whenever it was believed there would be danger from frosts," said Greenleaf. "While I have received no information so far, still I believe that warnings will be given this winter, should necessity arise."

"The coldest temperature reached last winter was 25 degrees, if I remember rightly, yet only slight damage was done to citrus trees."

ELECTRIC STOVES AND BATH FOR TOURISTS

A tourist camp, furnished with electrical stoves and a bath house, has been installed by citizens of Boise, Idaho, at the edge of town on the banks of the Boise river. More than 15,000 motorists have made use of the camp since the first unit was installed in June, 1918. The bath house was completed and dedicated September 19, with appropriate ceremonies participated in by business men workers, who co-operated in its construction, and by a large party of tourists at the camp. A tender is in charge of the camp, and keeps a register of all visitors.

TRUCKS MAKE SHORT WORK APPLE HAULING

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 10.—The motor truck has revolutionized methods of transporting apples in the famous Hood River Valley of Oregon, whose apples are known the whole world over. Of the 2,000,000 boxes of commercially packed fruit harvested this season, not more than 100,000 boxes were hauled from packing houses to shipping station by the old method of horse-drawn vehicles. Motor trucks have made short work of apple hauling.

DRIVE FOR RED CROSS TO END TOMORROW EVENING

Total Number of Names Reported Up to This Morning Is 2280

Tomorrow, Armistice Day, ends the drive of the American Red Cross for memberships for 1920.

Santa Ana chapter's chairmen and captains expect to complete their work by tomorrow evening, and all reports are due to be turned in at headquarters on Wednesday morning.

The chance for joining the Red Cross for the next year, the opportunity for co-operating with that great organization in its worldwide work, will soon be over, so far as the membership campaign is concerned.

If there are blocks or portions of blocks within the city that have not been visited by canvassers, a report to that effect should be sent at once to Mrs. J. N. Anderson, the chairman of the drive for Santa Ana.

Excellent results have been secured at the Red Cross membership booths on Fourth street at the corner of Sycamore and Main. Up to this morning, Mrs. Marie Timmons, who has charge of the booths, had turned over $122 to Mrs. Rutherford, the chapter's chairman for the drive.

Posters showing 100 per cent signed up for the Red Cross were awarded Brydon Bros., the Edison sub-station, to teachers of Jefferson school, to teachers of Washington school, and to teachers of the Santa Ana high school.

The district leading in the reports turned in up to today is the business district, with C. D. Swanner as captain. That district now has a total of 571.

Irvine has reported ten members. El Toro has just started its canvass, but will finish by tomorrow night.

Razor Wielded in Fight Over Woman Charge of Yorban

Quarrels, it is said, arising over the wife of Mauricio Rodriguez, of Yorba, culminated in a fight between Rodriguez and Andrew Reyes, in which Rodriguez is alleged to have attempted to slash Reyes with a razor, and yesterday Rodriguez was in the county jail, charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

According to Reyes, who appeared at the office of the district attorney and swore to a complaint against Rodriguez, the latter drew a razor soon after the two men had come to blows. It was only by grappling with Rodriguez and by putting his foot on Rodriguez' wrist that Reyes was able to prevent Rodriguez from doing him serious injury. Reyes told Deputy District Attorney A. P. Nelson, who drew up the complaint.

Rodriguez was placed under arrest by deputies from the office of Sheriff C. E. Jackson.

FREIGHT RATE RAISE TO COAST IS ASKED

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—A campaign for increased freight rates has been started here by executives of all roads between Chicago and the Pacific coast.

Announcement was made at the conclusion of the conference that the application for increases will not be ready for the Interstate Commerce Commission for at least two months.

Among officials at the meeting were Julius Kruttschnitt and Samuel Spence of the S. P., Samuel Feltman of the Chicago Great Western, R. M. Calkins of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Claude Burnham of the Burlington, C. H. Markham of the Illinois Central, and H. K. McCullough, Northwestern lines.

Queen of Rumania Decorates Yankee Girl for Nursing

Daughter of Publisher Given Cross of Marie For Bucharest Work

New York, Nov. 10.—An American nurse, Miss Pamela Poor, has been decorated by the Queen of Rumania for her skill and devotion in nursing wounded Rumanian soldiers in the hospital at Bucharest.

Miss Poor, who is the daughter of the late Henry W. Poor, publisher, has been in Bucharest for some months doing hospital work and has endeared herself to thousands of Rumanians by her work of kindness. The attention of the queen was called to the American girl who has been awarded the Cross of Marie in recognition of her work.

TWO NURSES WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Orange County Hospital Training School, on Saturday evening of this week, is to present diplomas of graduation to two students who have completed their courses of training at the hospital and who are now ready to enter into their work as graduate nurses.

The graduates are Miss Mary Margaret Stroka and Miss Annie Laura Sumner.

Dr. H. E. Zaiser, superintendent of the Orange County Hospital, has arranged for commencement exercises for the class. These exercises will be held at the hospital chapel at 8 o'clock Saturday evening of this week. Invitations for attendance at the exercises have been issued.

Home-made Candies at home-made prices. Nougats, fudges, creams, brittles. Llon Kandy Kitchen, 211 West Fourth St.

PROGRAM TO BE HELD IN BIRCH PARK AT 10 O'CLOCK

Rev. Stevenson, L. A. West and Captain Holderman to Make Addresses

Tomorrow, the anniversary of the signing of the armistice that ended the most terrible fighting in all history, is to be celebrated in Santa Ana with a public gathering and program at Birch Park.

In many communities of the state celebrations are to be held as homecoming demonstrations for the soldiers and sailors. Orange county held its homecoming celebration on September 9.

Tomorrow's program is arranged as a general demonstration of joy and thanksgiving over the bringing of peace.

Business houses and public buildings are to be closed in Santa Ana tomorrow. The day has been declared a legal holiday.

The program at Birch Park is to commence at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Three addresses are to be given. One is to be by Rev. J. A. Stevenson, who recently returned from Y. M. C. A. service overseas, another by Captain N. M. Holderman, who has been awarded a Distinguished Service Cross and two Croix de Guerre medals for fighting in the Argonne Forest, and a third by District Attorney L. A. West.

Booths at which memberships in the American Red Cross for 1920 may be secured will be established at the park, one at each of the four corner entrances.

The morning's program follows: "America," by audience, led by Clarence Gustin.

Invocation. "America, My Homeland" (Salter), High School Girls' Glee Club. "Welcome Home Song" (Gustin), Mrs. Russell Coleman.

"Fifteen Minutes in the Cantonnements," Rev. J. A. Stevenson. "Stars and Stripes" (Souza), High School Band.

"Fifteen Minutes in the Argonne Forest," Capt. N. M. Holderman.

(a) "Sons of the Flag" (Gertrude Ross), (b) "America Will Fight For You" (Gustin), High School Glee Club.

"The Value of the Armistice to the Civilian," L. A. West, District Attorney of Orange County.

Garde Du Corps March (Hall), High School Band.

Triumphal March — Oratorio "Naaman" (Cowen), High School Glee Club.

"Star Spangled Banner," High School Band, with audience singing.

A customer asked the owner of a small store where he got the new blind for his window. "My customers bought it for me," he replied.

"Your customers bought it for you? Why, how's that?" the customer asked.

"O, I put a little box on the counter with a sign, 'Donations for the blind.'"

HISTORIC ROCK IS FOUND ON DESERT

Riverside Pioneer Scout Says He Has Located Long Sought Relic

For 48 years Jonathan Tibbet, old-time Apache scout and frontiersman of Riverside, has been searching for a most important Indian relic, and now he claims to have discovered it on the desert in Riverside county. The relic is a memorial rock about which the Indians of Southern California gathered once in every five years at the November luna grande, or full moon, to pray for the spirits of the departed.

Tibbet delivered an address last spring to the Present Day Club of Santa Ana, during which he detailed many of his experiences of early days. Concerning Tibbet's discovery of the memorial rock, the Riverside Press says:

"The location of the rock was not revealed by Mr. Tibbet, nor will he reveal it until the time comes for the moving of the rock to the museum of early day relics which Mr. Tibbet hopes to see established in San Bernardino, Riverside or San Gabriel. The rock is on the Riverside county desert. Mr. Tibbet tells the San Bernardino Sun.

"In 1848 Jonathan Tibbet, Sr., father of Mr. Tibbet, was told of the legend of the memorial rock by Antonio Maria Lago and Chief Juan Antonio in San Bernardino. He organized an expedition to search for the rock but failed. He passed the legend to his son and he took up the search, but had failed until recently when a prospector told him of the strange rock he had seen on the desert and took Mr. Tibbet to it. It was the lost memorial rock of the Indians, with the strange maze which figured in the legend, carved on its face.

Mr. Tibbet has a photograph of the rock and its carved face, but will not permit of its use until the museum is created it being his plan that it should be sold under a copyright protection to aid the museum fund.

"Within the square is an unbroken line, winding about, and it was the conception of the Indians of prehistoric times that the spirits of bad Indians got into the maze and could not get out and proceed to the happy hunting grounds for 25 years.

"In each corner is a square, and in these the spirits of the good Indians went, so the legend goes, and it was a comparatively easy matter for the tribesmen to pray them out and send them to the happy hunting ground.

"Because the ceremonial occurred only once in five years, the spirits of the good Indians were prayed out only on those occasions.

"Mr. Tibbet, in his search for the rock, related the legend to Captain Manuel, who died Saturday at the age of 108, and the old Indian said he had heard the legend, but that the rock was lost to the tribe. At the funeral of the chief the other day Tibbet showed the photograph to several of the aged women of the tribe, and they nodded their heads and told Mr. Tibbet through an interpreter that it was the rock known to their tribe for ages. They had never seen it.

"The Native Sons have charge of the campaign to secure for San Bernardino the museum, which would be started with Mr. Tibbet's collection of relics declared by a Smithsonian institute official to be worth a quarter of a million dollars."

NEW PARKING SYSTEM NEW ORLEANS PLAN

Complete revision of the parking system for motor cars, and the issuance of permits for standing room of taxicabs and rental cars is to be made by the municipal government of New Orleans after January 1, 1920, according to R. J. Montrose, commissioner of public safety. At present, rental cars of all kinds are allowed to park anywhere on the streets, irrespective of the wishes of property owners or business houses, provided they pay $10 a year to the city for the privilege. This not only makes driving private cars difficult, but so blocks the entrances to many places of business, notably the theaters and hotels, that it discommodates shoppers and others wishing to enter these places.

FORDSON TRACTORS TO BE HANDLED BY CO.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 10.—While Fordson distributors will lose control of the tractor by July 31, 1920, they still will retain control of the distribution of all farm operative equipment approved by Henry Ford. The Fordson tractor itself will be distributed through the Ford Motor Company branch houses and will be handled as Ford product exclusively by Ford dealers, but the equipment lines will reach the dealers through the same channels of distribution they have in the past.

It is the purpose of the Ford organization to make its selling organization the strongest and most aggressive in the tractor field. At present about 4000 Ford dealers handle the Fordson tractor, but it is planned to have the remaining 4000 take it on within the next year. As these dealers will be expected to handle the approved equipment also, the result will be that 8000 new implement dealers will be going after business by the end of another year.

MAKE ADJUSTMENTS ON WARM ENGINE

Adjustments made on the truck engine when it is cold are seldom satisfactory when the power plant has warmed up to operating temperature, owing to the expansion of the heated metal. Engine adjustments should be made when the engine is hot after a run.

MANY CHRISTIAN HYMNS SANG IN ORIENT

Gospel Music Played at the Coronation Ceremonies of Indian Marajah

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The use of Christian hymns is causing a revolution in the music of the Orient, according to reports received from American missionaries by the Interchurch World Movement of North America, whose national headquarters are in New York city.

The squeaky notes of the average Chinese and Japanese orchestra and the "bait-in-a-hardware-shop" noises of a Mongolian band are giving place to the strains of "Rock of Ages" and "Onward Christian Soldiers," the Interchurch World Movement learned. Christian hymns are sung and played even by Orientals who are not Christianized. Missionaries state that it is always easy to draw a crowd with a baby organ, no matter how antagonistic the members may be toward the Christian faith.

Growing popularity of Occidental hymns is similarly found in India. The recent coronation procession of a marajah in that country marched to the stirring strains of American gospel hymns played by the potentate's brass band. Christian music is said to have reached its highest development in Burma where Baptist converts among the natives have been trained for the past century in vocal and instrumental work.

Lead, Kindly Light

An Englishman traveling in the foothills of Burmah during the Burmese robber wars tells the Interchurch of sighting the torchlight flares of a large crowd of natives. He and his companions were preparing for an attack, when they heard the familiar strains of "Lead, Kindly Light" coming from the natives, who turned out to be Burmese Christians. Several hundred students of a mission college at Rangoon recently sang Handel's "Messiah" before a large audience.

So important is music considered as an evangelizing factor in the Oriental mission field that a commission of prominent American women, headed by Miss Josephine Ramsey, a specialist in community music, is on its way for a six months' investigation of the question. The commission is part of an interdenominational deputation of 30 well-known American women who will study all phases of the missionary field in the East and its findings will be used by the Interchurch World Movement in the formulation of its world program. The Interchurch Movement is the organization through which the various Protestant bodies in this country are co-operating.

The deputation, among whose members are President M. Carey Thomas, of Bryn Mawr College, and President Ellen F. Pendleton, of Wellesley College, was organized by the Women's Federated Council of Foreign Missionary Societies.

Miss Ramsey and her social service commission of the deputation will give special study to means of building up community choruses in the villages of India, China and Japan, methods of training Oriental musicians and choir directors and the translation of Christian hymns.

PUT SOAP IN CHILD'S MOUTH, SAYS WITNESS

After the greater part of Friday had been taken up by the putting on of evidence, pro and con, as to whether Mrs. Charles Roper, of Los Angeles, should continue to have the custody of her child, or whether Everett A. Stockton, Mrs. Roper's former husband, should be given the care of it, Superior Judge West took the question under advisement, the hearing on Stockton's petition being continued until December 5. Stockton had a number of witnesses to testify on his behalf. These, neighbors of Mrs. Roper, said that Mrs. Roper was cruel in her treatment of the little girl, Alice Campbell, one of Stockton's witnesses, said that Mrs. Roper beat the child "night and day," a thing which, the court remarked, was impossible. Kate Scoby testified that Mrs. Roper put soap in the child's mouth. Morris A. Cain is attorney for Stockton, and Eden & Koepsel are attorneys for Mrs. Roper.

U. S. SHIPS SEARCHED BY ENGLISH AGENTS

DUBLIN, Nov. 10.—America steamers arriving at Irish ports yesterday were searched by British agents for possible shipments of arms or ammunition.

The United States shipping board's steamer Lake Fontaine, from New Orleans and the Lake Franconia were boarded by detectives and carefully searched.

The government agents ransacked the crew's quarters over protests of the Americans. Close questioning of officers and crew of the ships failed to reveal any evidence the vessels carried arms or supplies to the Sinn Feiners.

The Sinn Fein parliament protested to American Consul Adams at Dublin, declaring the British agents' action at London constituted a hindrance of lawful trade between Ireland and America.

STEEL COIL SPRINGS BATTERY CONNECTOR

A very convenient battery connector may be made from a piece of heavy steel coil springs. The spring wire at each end is fashioned into a hook and these are slipped into the battery posts, the tension of the spring insuring perfect contact.
